MAN TO MOON IN '71 BY NUCLEAR ROCKET

WASHINGTON (UPI)—The United States will be able to send a man to the moon and beyond on a nuclear-powered rocket by 1971, chairman Glenn Seaborg of the Atomic Energy Commission said today.

Seaborg told the Senate space committee that tests in the nuclear rocket engine program so far have been an "unqualified success."

He said a crude test model of the engine, known as Project Rover, should be completed in three or four years and that a nuclear rocket should be test-flown by 1966-7.

BOOKIE 'SUSPENDED' SIX YEARS

NORTHAMPTON, Eng. (AP)—A boy of 12 has been ordered by juvenile court to abandon his career as a bookie—for at least six years.

The boy, son of a bookmaker, was found by police taking bets on horses at a betting shop. Betting shops recently became legal in Britain, but the law forbids anybody to frequent them until the age of 18.

In accordance with juvenile court practice, the bookie's name was kept secret.

'First Phase' Of Talks End

EVIAN, France (Reuters)—The "first phase" of talks between France and insurgents to end the 6½-year Algerian war ended today, a French spokesman said.

In the "second phase" beginning Thursday, both sides will draw up a list of points on which they have common ground before deciding how to tackle them, the spokesman said after today's two-hour meeting.

Castro Demands Talks In Havana Over Swap

DETROIT (UPI)—The U.S. response. We consider the deadline has been met."

A spokesman for Walter Rostow, Eleanor Roosevelt and Dr. Milton Eisenhower, the leading fund-raisers, said the committee was studying Castro's demand, would confer by telephone and hoped to give an answer by tonight.

Castro added the new condition to his tractors-for-captives proposal Tuesday night. He asked that Mrs. Roosevelt and other fund-raisers go to Havana to complete the negotiations—a new way of exacting U.S. recognition for his regime.

A spokesman for the committee in Detroit said, "Premier Castro's statement is considered to be an official response. We consider the deadline has been met."

John D. Says U.S. Ruling Won't Halt Red China Grain

RUB-A-DUB-DUB IN CHANNEL CHUG

DOVER, Eng. (Reuters)—Two men in a bathtub and another on water skis set out to cross the English Channel today but the skier gave up after encountering high tides.

Lex Wozniak failed in this third attempt to cross the channel wearing 12-foot water skis, pushing himself along with ski poles.

Wozniak said he covered about six miles in two hours, but got tired fighting high tides.

Meanwhile, Brighton college students Alan Witt, 21, and 19-year-old John Row hoped to reach France in their bathtub, propelled by an outboard motor.

JFK 'Sombre' In Report On Summit

By HAROLD MORRISON

WASHINGTON (CP)—President Kennedy, in a sombre report on Vienna summitry, says Soviet Premier Khrushchev dealt a "serious blow" to Western hopes for an effective treaty to ban atomic explosions and reduce the world's arms race.

While Khrushchev wouldn't budge an inch from his demands for a veto over inspection controls against possible cheating, Kennedy said the West would continue its patient struggle for a treaty in the belief that the atomic stakes are too important to abandon negotiations at this stage.

On the brighter side, Kennedy found his two-day talks with the Soviet leader in Vienna brightened hopes of obtaining progress in seeking a peaceful solution to the Laotian problem through the 14-country Geneva conference.

The parley has been deadlocked over Soviet refusal to grant cease-fire inspectors freedom to check violators.

Kennedy said neither he nor Khrushchev scored a victory over the other at Vienna but the chances of a world war by miscalculation should be less now that each leader knows better where the other stands.

REPORTS TO PEOPLE

Kennedy reported this to the country Tuesday night in a 23-minute radio-TV speech in which he talked "candidly and

Canada Boosts Aid

WASHINGTON (CP)—Canada has agreed to increase economic aid to Pakistan with the provision of $6,500,000 in long-term export credits in addition to annual Colombo plan commitments to that country, it was announced today.

UN, Katanga Pact

LEOPOLDVILLE, The Congo (UPI)—United Nations officials will take command of the 7,000-man Katanga army, as a result of the first agreement reached between the UN and any Congo state, it was announced today.

Ship Missing

TAPEI, Formosa (UPI)—A 500-ton Nationalist Chinese cargo ship with 32 crew members aboard has been missing since it left Kaohsiung for Hong Kong Sunday, according to reports today from that southern Formosa city.

Prairies Need Rain

Jackie in Greece

Nikita 'Tough' On German Pact

BERLIN (UPI)—Soviet Premier Khrushchev gave President Kennedy two memoranda in Vienna threatening to give East Germany a separate peace treaty and control of the routes to Berlin, informed sources said today.

The sources said the memoranda indicated Kennedy failed to talk Khrushchev out of his tough stand on Berlin.

The Soviet memoranda said the granting of a peace treaty to East Germany would not be long delayed if the Western allies continue to refuse to sign a treaty with both German states, the sources said.

SIGN THIS YEAR

The West Berlin newspaper Tagesspiegel, in a dispatch from the West German capital of Bonn said the memoranda warned the peace treaty would be signed this year.

Green Returns To Geneva Parley

OTTAWA (CP)—External Affairs Minister Green left Tuesday night by air for Geneva to rejoin the Canadian delegation at the conference on Laos.

He returned to Ottawa May 20 after taking part in the opening phase of the conference.

Ontario Firm Can Make Pump

OTTAWA (CP)—Canada is determined to maintain the pace of grain exports to Red China and may make and fly its own unloading equipment to that country to replace machinery which is under a United States export ban, Prime Minister Diefenbaker told the Commons today.

He said the U.S. is fully entitled to apply its ban to American companies within its borders but that Canada is determined nothing will halt east coast shipments of grain to China.

His statement referred to a portable suction unloader needed by big tankers in Red China ports—a machine made only in the U.S. and denied to tankers which are under Red China charter, for handling Canadian grain.

The prime minister said the situation does not affect grain shipments to China from west-coast ports but did not specify why. It was understood, however, that few tankers are involved in the west-coast shipments.

NO HALT IN SHIPMENTS

Mr. Diefenbaker said he has been assured that an Ontario firm can build the unloaders and have them ready within three weeks. If so, they would be flown to Red China to avoid any halt in shipments.

Outside the House, it was learned that the Ontario firm in question is Pneumeyer Systems, Limited, of Woodstock, Ont., a Canadian-owned company which manufactures such equipment.

He said reports of the incident have been blown out of proportion.

The loss of the U.S. equipment affected only tankers—which involves only a few of the many vessels under charter by Red China. The tankers were banned from using the U.S. machinery under a U.S. law which forbids trade with that country.

300-TON CAPACITY

Mr. Diefenbaker said that the Canadian machine will have a daily capacity of 300 tons—only half that of the U.S. model. Talks were being held today with the Canadian Shipping Federation to work out new timetables.

The government's trade commissioners were shopping around the United Kingdom and Europe for an alternative supply but it was felt also that an Ontario plant could turn out models which would be flown to Red China.

WILL GO AHEAD

The government is "quite determined that shipments to Red China will proceed without delay or interruption," Mr. Diefenbaker said. Shipments had been on schedule so far.

He said he wanted to emphasize that there is "no basis whatsoever" for suggestions that the U.S. ban would endanger the execution of the grain deal terms.

U.S. OPENS REVIEW OF BAN

WASHINGTON (CP)—The state department said today the United States decision to ban the sale of special grain handling equipment to tankers hauling Canadian wheat to Red China is under review.

The announcement was made after Canadian Ambassador Arnold Heeney had made representations to the department asking that the ban be lifted.

Press officer Lincoln White told reporters that the review will deal with the question of whether the decision should be reversed.

He read a long statement to reporters, making the point that the American ban was not aimed at Canada and did not involve any subsidiaries of American companies operating in Canada.

Earlier it was learned that the Norwegian ambassador—whose country has ships under charter, to carry the Canadian grain to Red China—also made representations.

29 Charges Of Theft

OTTAWA (CP)—An RCMP spokesman said today 29 charges of theft are to be laid against an RCN petty officer on the Ottawa naval headquarters staff.

The charges arise from a $1,200 shortage in naval Community Chest collections over a two-year period.

General Jailed

PARIS (Reuters)—Ex-Gen. Pierre-Marie Bigot was sentenced Tuesday to 15 years at hard labor by a special military court for his part in the abortive Algerian military revolt in April.

Bigot, who commanded the French air force in Algeria, was convicted for organizing the arrival of rebel ex-generals Maurice Challe and Andre Zeller in Algeria by air from France before they launched putsch.

Challe and Zeller were previously sentenced to 15 years hard labor. Maj. Elie Denoix de Saint-Marc, leader of the Foreign Legion paratroops who seized Algiers on the night of April 21-22, was sentenced to 10 years hard labor Monday night.

Goods for Cuba Held Under Pact With U.S.?

OTTAWA (CP)—Trade Minister Hees said today he will check a report that 165 tons of spare parts and base materials were seized from a Cuban freighter in Montreal last week on grounds it was trans-shipped from the United States.

He replied to Lucien Cardin (L-Richelieu-Vercheres) who asked in the Commons whether Mr. Hees would list the seized items and state under what authority they were removed.

He said some of the items were made in Canada.

He also asked Mr. Hees to comment on the reported existence of an "unofficial" Canadian-U.S. agreement whereby U.S. goods can not dodge that country's embargo on Cuban trade by going through Canadian ports.

Prime Minister Diefenbaker and Mr. Hees told the Commons last year that trans-shipment of U.S. goods to Cuba through Canadian ports would not be permitted.

EVIL EYE AND WHAMMY AS GOOD AS THE COUCH

MONTREAL (CP)—Dr. I. A. Senanayake of Ceylon said Tuesday he doesn't believe in witchdoctors or the evil-eye, but they seem to work in some cases of mental illnesses.

He told a session of the third world congress of psychiatry that it is a fact some psychoneuroses are cured by tribal rituals.

In the belief that the illnesses were caused by evil spirits, the treatments invented by the witchdoctors naturally consisted of invocations, offerings and rituals of deities and evil spirits that had to be pacified to bring relief to the patient.

Dr. Ari Kiev of Baltimore told the same session that voodoo priests in Haiti have a reasonable knowledge of the theory of psychiatry.

In addition to a prolonged training period, in which they learned something of human behavior, they made effective use of symbolic equipment to enhance the results of their treatments.

They are all aware of the value of their patients having complete faith in the success of the treatment, Dr. Kiev said.

Still, waters run deep, in th' Creston area.

SHELTERED TRUJILLO ASSASSINS AT GUNPOINT

Doctor Slashes Throat

CIUDAD TRUJILLO (AP) — A doctor who claimed he was forced at gunpoint to shelter the assassins of dictator Rafael Trujillo died Tuesday night after cutting his own throat, the Dominican government reported.

The government said Dr. Robert Reid Cabral severed his jugular vein with a penknife Tuesday, a day after he claimed he had been forced to harbor Brig.-Gen. Juan Tomas Diaz, charged with being the chief assassin, and three accomplices. Diaz was shot and killed and a companion wounded Sunday night by security forces.

Meanwhile the newspaper La Na-ción, considered a government spokesman, launched a blast at Venezuela's President Romula Betancourt, arch opponent of the slain Trujillo.

La Nacion accused Betancourt and the U.S. State Department of pressuring the Organization of American States into voting sanctions against the Trujillo regime last year.

Tuesday night government sources who originally said Trujillo's assassination was the result of a private grudge and non-political began spreading reports it was masterminded from an unidentified foreign country.

$45,000 Fountain To Mark Centenary

Historic B.C. animals, cast in bronze, will be featured in a $45,000 illuminated cascading fountain to be constructed at the rear of the Legislative Buildings.

The fountain will commemorate Victoria's centenary in 1962. Works Minister W. N. Chant said. It will be built on what is now a flower bed facing Superior Street.

"Work will start immediately," Mr. Chant said, "and we hope to have it finished early next year. It will be as artistic a fountain as you can find anywhere."

IN EUROPE

Mr. Chant said it might be necessary to have the bronze castings made in Europe. He estimated the over-all cost at between $40,000 and $50,000.

The lighting of the fountain will be in green, blue, white and yellow.

The centerpiece will show two sea otters, one looking down into the water while the other looks up at two bronze seagulls wheeling overhead.

On the rim of the fountain will be two birds and two animals—the eagle of Vancouver Island tribes; the raven from the Queen Charlottes; the wolf from the Stikkeen territory, and the bear of the interior Indians.

Plaques setting forth historical legends will be mounted on the fountain, which has been designed by Robert Savery of the public works department.

bushels of wheat and 58,000,000 bushels of barley spread over two and one-half years. The total price is $425,600,000.

Opposition Leader Pearson was critical of some newspaper reports on the situation. He said one report, which he did not identify, stated flatly that Canada planned to make strong representations to the United States.

"It is unfortunate that this kind of difficulty could not have been avoided without this kind of publicity," Mr. Pearson said.

SUGGESTS ALTERNATIVE

He noted that Mr. Diefenbaker said the possibilities of Canadian production of pumps was being studied. Mr. Pearson said another alternative could be to have the Crown-owned Canadian Commercial Corporation buy the pumps directly from the U.S. firm, and in that way the American law would not be involved.

CCF Leader Argue said he didn't feel that the matter had been "blown up beyond proper proportions."

It was a reflection of Canadian-American relations "that we should be subjected" to the kind of treatment that interferes with shipment of the grain.

This was not the first case of American interference in the shipments, Mr. Argue said. He said there have been published reports that Canadian subsidiaries of American milling companies have refused to accept flour orders for Red China.

He wondered if even the three-week delay in turning out the pumps from a Canadian plant would delay shipments.

There would be no delay, replied Mr. Diefenbaker. The pumps could be flown to Chinese ports for use when the tankers arrived.

government officials agreed that a civic request for declaration of a state of emergency was premature.

Creeks in the Kelowna area went over their banks overnight in the wake of a cloudburst, covering roads and damaging orchards.

RCMP at Okanagan Mission appealed for 35 or 40 volunteers to help sandbag as several houses were endangered.

Public works crews worked through the night fighting the floods.

D-DAY MEMORIAL

Scottish Sunset Rite Witnessed by 1,000

Men of the city's favorite regiment—the Canadian Scottish Regiment (Princess Mary's)—drew nearly 1,000 spectators to the Legislative Buildings when they conducted a sunset ceremony Tuesday.

For the fighting Scots it was also a memorial service for the infantrymen lost in action June 6, 1944, when Allied forces landed on the German coast of Normandy.

Their pipes and drums burst out with the regimental air "Blue Bonnets Over the Border," as they have for the 11 years D-Day anniversary has been marked by the Scottish unit.

Then CO. Lieut.-Col. Peter Ramsay, placed a wreath on the Cenotaph in a simple gesture on behalf of all ranks.

Pte. John Alexander Winsell was given the City of Victoria stick by Ald. Austin Curtis when he was chosen best man on parade.

The flag-striking service will be taken at 8:30 tonight by cadets of 89 Kinsmen Squadron, Royal Canadian Air Cadets.

Goofball Law Fight Ends in 'No Decision'

(From Times News Service)

OTTAWA—The Commons could have been mistaken for a courtroom Tuesday night.

At issue was the application of one of the most basic of all common-law rights—the right of every man to be presumed innocent until proven guilty by law.

A battery of Liberal lawyers argued that the government would violate that principle in its proposed bill to curb trafficking in barbiturates and amphetamines—the drugs that make "goofballs."

Justice Minister Fulton, backed by the Conservative lawyers, argued just as forcefully that this was not the case. Finally each side admitted defeat in trying to persuade the other, and all agreed that the courts will have to settle the question. The bill was given clause-by-clause approval and scheduled for third and final reading today.

The contentious section of the "goofball" bill says plainly that the Crown must first prove that the accused possessed the drugs—although possession in itself is not the crime. The offence is possession for the purpose of trafficking.

Then the accused "shall be given an opportunity" of establishing that he possessed the drugs lawfully, or that he did not possess them for the purpose of trafficking.

'Violates Rights Bill Guarantees'

Such a provision means that the accused has to prove his innocence, said the Liberal lawyers. Speaker after speaker made this point—Paul Martin (Essex East), J. P. Deschamps (Montreal, Maisonneuve-Rosemont), Leon Crestohl (Montreal Cartier) and others.

They said this would be a breach of the 1960 Bill of Rights, which guarantees the presumption of innocence.

It is a well-understood principle of criminal justice, said Mr. Fulton, that in cases of possession—possession of explosives and narcotics, for example—"certain inferences can be drawn from certain facts."

How else could the prosecution determine the reason for the possession—something known only to the accused—Mr. Fulton asked. "There is nothing new in this," he said.

He said the Ontario appeal court recently ruled in a case of possession of explosives that this same procedure of prosecution does not violate the Bill of Rights and the presumption of innocence.

Mr. Crestohl asked: Supposing the Crown proved the possession of the drugs, what would happen if the accused chose to remain silent—if his counsel made no defence? Would he be convicted?

Always, Mr. Fulton said. Mr. Martin said he and his colleagues are certain the legislation as it stands will be contested in the courts.

U.S. ARMY CLAIMS

Russia 'Far Ahead' With Germ Warfare

WASHINGTON (AP)—An army spokesman says the Russians have the trained operatives, gadgets and the germs to make the Pentagon's 30,000 employees ill in a secret attack.

The army also warned that the Soviets are so far ahead in both offensive and defensive chemical and biological warfare that it would take the U.S. at least five years to catch up.

EXPORT TRADE WITH CUBA TRIPLED

OTTAWA (CP)—Canadian exports to Cuba in February were worth $2,004,749, nearly three times the amount in February, 1960, trade officials reported today.

It was the third month in a row that value of Canadian sales to the island republic topped the $2,000,000 mark, maintaining an upward surge that began last year when the United States clamped an embargo on Cuban trade.

This year's February figure compares with $750,000 in that month last year and $1,222,000 in 1959.

In recent testimony before the house of representatives appropriations committee, censured before release today, chemical corps intelligence officer W. E. Black said flatly that the Soviets could start a general war using chemical weapons "tomorrow and sustain it along a major front."

He said that the Soviets were equally proficient in covert operations, citing the "possibility of erupting a small vessel of highly infectious material into the ventilating system of a building such as the Pentagon."

Lt. Gen. Arthur Trudeau, army research chief, said that about one-sixth of Russia's huge military stockpile consists of chemical warfare weapons.

THEY COULD HAVE DANCED ALL NIGHT

Nikita Bangs Bongos At Gay Moscow Party

By HENRY SHAPIRO

MOSCOW (UPI)—Tass news agency said "an unrestrained, cordial atmosphere prevailed."

In Western terms, it was a rip-roaring Soviet Premier Nikita Khrushchev, fresh from his summit meeting with President Kennedy, sang, played the bongo drums with a swagger stick and danced a hot Russian "hora."

President Leonid Brezhnev tied a kerchief over his head and took the female part in a "Leskinka" dance with Deputy Premier Anastas Mikoyan.

Indonesian girls kissed Khrushchev and Russian women kissed Indonesian President Sukarno.

IN GARDEN

The occasion was a garden reception at the Indonesian Embassy a few hours after Sukarno arrived Tuesday on a state visit.

Gaily-colored Chinese lanterns lighted the lawn. Khrushchev was the life of the party for three hours—and had nothing to drink but fruit juice.

It was Sukarno's 60th birthday but neither he nor Khrushchev, who is 68, showed their ages. Khrushchev looked more relaxed and exuberant than this correspondent has seen him in years.

The fun started when Sukarno started an Indonesian national folk dance with some of the Oriental women dressed in colorful national costumes.

Khrushchev grabbed Sukarno's swagger stick and began beating the bongos. Then he grabbed Sukarno himself and joined the dancers.

BEAUTIFUL GIRLS

Several times beautiful Indonesian girls in saris dashed to the Soviet premier and kissed him on both cheeks.

Khrushchev, delighted, called for Russian girls to return the favor to Sukarno. Mrs. Khrushchev and another Russian woman complied and the Soviet premier thanked them for "upholding Russian honor."

When Mikoyan and Khrushchev were dancing the strenuous "hora," Mikoyan dropped to his haunches during the dance but the portlier Khrushchev could not make it.

The dancing might have gone on all night but a sudden shower ended it and sent the guests inside the embassy. At midnight, Khrushchev and Sukarno left for Leningrad.

SOMBRE SUMMIT REPORT

marked by newly-developing lands. "We have no more crucial obligation now."

Both Kennedy and Khrushchev recognized the need of reducing tensions in Laos; to endorse adoption of a neutral and independent Laos. But there was no such hope for the protracted Geneva talks on a nuclear test ban treaty.

Khrushchev made it clear, Kennedy said, "there could not be a neutral administrator in his opinion because no one was truly neutral."

The president spoke partly without text as he recounted the high spots of his 9,120-mile week's trip to Europe from which he returned Tuesday morning. He was most enthusiastic over his stops at Paris and London. There, he said, he accomplished his goal—"to strengthen the unity of the West."

Congressmen of both parties joined in praise of Kennedy's report. They generally agreed that little had been accomplished beyond putting Kennedy and Khrushchev on a first-hand basis for the future, but they figured this at least was a step forward.

WE KNEW BETTER WHERE WE STOOD

WASHINGTON (CP)—President Kennedy Tuesday night explained his summit meeting with Premier Khrushchev as a step forward in their relations. He put it this way:

The gap between us was not in such a short period materially reduced, but at least the channels of communication were opened more fully.

At least the chances of a dangerous misjudgment on either side should now be less, and at least the men on whose decisions the peace in part depends have agreed to remain in contact.

Our views contrasted sharply, but at least we knew better at the end where we both stood.

There was no discourtesy, no loss of tempers, no threats or ultimatums by either side...

Neither of us was there to dictate a settlement or to Matson Sunset Lodge campaign in Victoria received a welcome surprise today when Fred Hume, former mayor of Vancouver and New Westminster, contributed $1,000 in the name of his firm, Hume and Rumble, who have offices in this city.

Mr. Hume wrote campaign officials: "We all know what a wonderful organization the Salvation Army is and the prominent part they are playing for the sake of humanity."

In Vancouver, where he is actively working for the campaign, former Lieutenant-Governor Frank Ross commented: "That's typical of Fred Hume. He is a fine and generous man."

Child With Nervous Cough

and Emeritus Professor of Medicine, Mayo Foundation

I learned a lot the other day, as, in a railroad station, I sat beside a nice woman, her boy of six, and her infant in arms. Every few minutes the boy would cough in a dry, hacking way—obviously, doing it on purpose—and then he would say to his mother, "Didn't you hear me coughing; what are you going to do for me?"

When the mother just smiled, the boy went into a choking spell. Again, he turned to his quiet mother and asked, "Aren't you going to do something for me?" And again, she just smiled.

Alvarez

I asked her, "How long has he been doing this?" And she said, "Three months; he started when I came home from the hospital with the baby. Before that he had always insisted on being the centre of attention. Now he is trying harder than ever to be the whole show."

"Sometimes he holds his breath until he turns blue, and sometimes he sort of stutters. I know so well what he is trying to do that I just smile at him, but sometimes I cuddle him a bit to show him that I still love him dearly."

I said, "How very fortunate that he has so wise and self-controlled a mother as you are. A mother who would go into spasms of anxiety over his antics could quickly make a hysterical wreck out of him."

"Well," she said, "most of the credit must go to my dear old doctor who sized up the situation—the minute he saw it—and told me never to show any alarm. As he said, 'When a hysterical person loses his audience he soon quits putting on his show.'"

How I wish many people could learn that.

People keep asking me why doctors do not get bees to sting the joints of people with arthritis. They think this is something new. Actually, I heard of it the first time in 1905, when I was an intern in a big city hospital. Some doctors then sent their patients to be treated by a bee man, while others injected formic acid hypodermically around the affected joints.

What happens is that when a sufferer from arthritis gets stung by some bees and his arthritis clears up he feels he has found a cure.

The only trouble is that when 10 people try it, perhaps one gets helped. A good example of an old folk remedy that today is being regarded as a great new discovery is that of boiled and concentrated sea water. I see no reason why it should do anything for anyone, but for the next six months thousands of people will be trying it.

I was much interested to read just now that even 100 years ago many old teachers of medicine strongly advised their young colleagues and students never to talk to their patients; never to explain their disease to them, and particularly never to say anything to the relatives. The idea was the less you say the less trouble you get into.

It is recorded that once, many years ago, an old family doctor was compelled by the anxiety of a patient's relatives to call in consultation a young teacher from the nearby medical school.

The young doctor came and soon made a diagnosis of the then common and much-dreaded typhoid fever. Quickly he then answered all the questions of the much-worried members of the family. He warned them that the patient could hardly hope to get well for another five weeks and he told them that they must not be too alarmed if, at times, their loved one's mind wandered a bit.

As the two doctors left the house, the old one, much annoyed, said to the young one, "Look; in 15 minutes you said more to those people than I have said to them in 15 years!"

To me, the very interesting item in this story is that the young man who was so kind as to answer all the questions of that anxious family became the world's greatest and most-loved physician—Sir William Osler, who did so much to make the Johns Hopkins Medical School famous and who ended his days as regius professor of medicine at Oxford, Eng.

It's Just the One for Dad

LONDON—Released only a couple of weeks ago, there's a new pop record that's racing to the top of the Hit Parade. It's that oldie, You're Driving Me Crazy.

There's nothing new about old numbers being revived, but the novelty about this one that is appealing to the public is that it was made by the Temperance Seven, whose expressed aim in life is "to recreate the dance music of the 1920s." And they have certainly pulled it off.

Daughter Robin heard it first and said at once: "Here's one for Dad." Next time it came on Radio Luxembourg, which pumps pop music into Britain most of the day and night, she rushed the portable to us and we had a family listening.

They all looked to me as the authority, through prior knowledge, of this particular style of music. My wife's specialty is a later period, going back to her listening to Benny Goodman's String of Pearls on a juke box at the Wonder Bar in Sunnyside.

The Temperance Seven have really caught the mood. There's the old, banjo plonking away in the background, the saxophones arranged in that old-fashioned, danceband style, the "wah-wah" of the muted trumpet and for the finish, of course, the "good evening friends" ending culminating in a smack on the cymbal and the drummer snatching at it. A "choked cymbal" I believe they call it in the trade.

But it was the vocal that made me really nostalgic. It's done on the record by a fellow named Whispering Paul MacDowell and he's got off the wavering sort of male vocalist of the 1920s to perfection.

At once my mind went back to Rudy Vallee and Russ-Columbia and, to put it in British terms, Jack Buchanan and Al Bowley.

I went into the background of this Temperance Seven who look as though they've really started something here and found that there are nine in the outfit—eight instrumentalists and MacDowell the vocalist. They call themselves the Temperance Seven because they're one over the eight, which is logical enough.

They're a semi-pro group and they're pretty arty types, most of them having day-time jobs in art work and designing. They started playing Dixieland a local hops. But eventually they said to themselves: Who doesn't play Dixieland? And they gave it a twist by setting out to reproduce the 1920s dance-band sound.

Victoria West Show Saturday

Victoria West is one of the oldest communities of the city, yet it was not until six years ago that a local flower show was held there.

From the time a group of keen gardeners connected with St. Saviour's Church arranged that first show, however, interest has never faltered and yearly it is becoming more of a community effort.

Saturday afternoon at 2.30 will see the opening of the sixth annual Victoria West flower show, in the Parish Hall of St. Saviour's, near the corner of Catherine and Henry Streets.

FINE ROSES

Classes for competition number 73, surely an ambitious project for a small group. Of these, 24 are for roses, and here it may be said that as fine roses will be seen at Victoria West as anywhere.

Perhaps the proximity to salt water, plus the rise of land up from the water are conducive to excellent roses, or maybe it is the care given the plants by these enthusiastic amateurs.

I am always pleased to see several classes for specimen flowers, such as sweet peas, delphiniums and peonies where as near perfection as possible is rewarded. Flower arrangements can utilize the less perfect blooms, and that is another art in itself, but unless careful garden culture continues to be rewarded, we may develop slipshod ways, and be quite satisfied with less than the best.

TEA SERVED

Afternoon tea will be served at the Saturday show, as usual, and is included in the 50 cents admission charge.

Speaking from experience, the housewives of Victoria West are also good cooks, and how they manage to put on a show and bake at the same time has always baffled me.

But go for yourselves and find out what a fine job they do, with the help of their husbands, of course.

SYNOPSIS—Tuesday's storm is now moving into Alberta leaving cloudy, showery weather across most of the interior of B.C. However, the coast has come under the influence of a weak ridge of high pressure and skies have cleared in many sections. This clearing will be short lived as another storm from the Pacific will reach the coast this evening and pass inland overnight. Hence cloud will increase gradually and rain will reach the south coast tonight. Behind the storm skies will clear slowly Thursday.

Trial by Jury Not for India

NEW DELHI (AP)—Trial by jury, one of the most sacred concepts of British law, is being abandoned in India as a failure.

Only two of the 16 Indian states still use juries. These two now are considering turning legal decisions over to judges alone.

Trial by jury always has been limited in India to some areas and particular types of cases. Even within these restrictions, the results have not always been satisfactory. Some legal experts have complained that juries too often produced miscarriages of justice.

"I have known juries finding prisoners guilty in the face of no evidence," Mohandas K. Gandhi, the father of Indian independence, wrote in 1931. "We must not slavishly copy all that is English."

The jury system originated in England as protection from decisions by judges who might be under the thumb of the king. The same consideration applied in 19th century India when judges were regarded as part of the British administration.

NO LOSS FELT

The constitution of independent India guarantees to citizens "procedures established by law." It does not specify that everyone is entitled to trial by jury. There have been few public complaints when trial by jury was eliminated by state legislatures.

In Uttar Pradesh, India's most populous state, an investigating committee was told that jurors were generally "open to approach" and did not give a fair verdict. A Bihar state committee found that "a number of persons have made it almost a profession to get themselves chosen as jurors for the sake of the remuneration and also the illegal gratification which some of them expect to get."

Indian society is split by caste and religious antagonisms which can weigh more

AIR PATROL ORGANIZED FOR STRAITS

VANCOUVER (CP)—Reserve pilots from the city's RCAP 19 wing will spend one and one-half hours each Sunday until Sept. 19, looking for weekend mariners who may be in danger, the air force announced today.

Conducted in co-operation with the Rescue Co-ordination Centre here, the program will be known as "Marine Patrol."

Other aircraft will sweep a set course over Georgia Strait, reporting on sea conditions, the density of traffic and possible signs of distress.

The planes will maintain an altitude of 200 feet over the water, 1,000 feet over land.

Crisis Near in Ceylon

By SIDNEY WEILAND

COLOMBO (Reuters)—Ceylon's 2,000,000 restive Tamils are awaiting a government move—expected within the next few weeks—aimed at a compromise in the island's tense racial situation.

Leaders of the talented Tamil minority and resident Europeans say that failure to settle Ceylon's tangled two-language problem could lead to economic paralysis and a permanent split in the island's population.

The government's problem is this: To what extent should the Tamils be allowed to use their own language for official business in a country committed to the supremacy of the majority language, Sinhalese.

Twice during the last five years—in 1956 and 1958—Ceylon has seen bloody riots touched off by the same language jealousies. At least 250 persons were killed in the rioting.

Tension continues high after a six-week state of emergency in which one Tamil leader has been detained, newspapers censored and the army called out to patrol Tamil provinces.

ISSUE SPECIAL POWERS

The army, backed by powers similar to martial law, has succeeded in preventing trouble. Only two deaths have been reported as a result of the language conflict during the emergency.

Government officials say the cabinet is "trying desperately" to evolve a formula that will satisfy the Tamils and yet not alienate the Sinhalese-Buddhist majority which gives the government its main support.

The search for an answer is complicated by centuries-old economic and emotional factors which, over the years, have turned Ceylon into a house divided against itself. Spokesmen for all sides say the situation is dangerous and is likely to grow more serious unless the government takes action soon.

The state of emergency has achieved a false calm in the Tamil northern and eastern provinces, but Tamil leaders threaten to resume their civil disobedience campaign once the emergency is lifted unless some of their main demands are met.

The long-range aim of the important Tamil group, the federal party, is regional autonomy for the Tamil provinces. The party's short-term object is recognition for Tamil as the language of administration in the north and east, a demand so far adamantly rejected by the government.

AT VANCOUVER

Heart Surgery Saves Young
Aussie Girl

VANCOUVER (CP) — Lynette Walsh came through five hours of open-heart surgery successfully Tuesday and an hour later spoke to her sister. "She looked very well," said Yvonne Walsh, breathing a sigh of relief.

RARE AILMENT

Lynette, attractive 20-year-old Australian girl, underwent the delicate surgery at Vancouver General Hospital, where she had come seeking a cure for a rare heart ailment.

Hospital authorities said her condition was satisfactory. She is being kept under constant surveillance because for three or four days she will be considered critically ill, routine in every such case.

Her surgeon, Dr. Ross Robertson, said the operation was successful and he expects the patient to be fine.

Lynette arrived with her sister May 22 from their home at Wollongong, a steel town 70 miles south of Sydney.

LIMITED ACTIVITY

The ailment had limited Lynette's activity for eight years and during recent years she had suffered increasing attacks of shortness of breath. Last October, when Dr. Robertson visited Australia to instruct doctors in open-heart surgery techniques, he examined Lynette and told her an operation would be necessary to correct the fault.

Her doctor in Australia advised her to come to Vancouver, where the General is one of the foremost institutions in cardiac surgery.

HEART BYPASSED

Similar operations are performed three times weekly in the hospital. An artificial heart makes it possible to have the bloodstream bypass the heart while it is mended.

For Lynette, surgery climaxed a story of generosity of the residents of Wollongong, where in three weeks after learning of the girl's ailment, employees at the steel plant there contributed nearly $4,500 to pay for her trip and operation.

Based on Vancouver's anti-smoke bylaw, the new measure will have to pass city council approval before it becomes effective.

Committee was told the new regulations would cut the fly-ash problem by 50 per cent without imposing undue hardship on industry.

The proposed regulations would cut the ratio of solids in the smoke and the time limits in which companies are permitted to emit concentrated smoke.

$250 FINES

Fines of up to $250 for each day the bylaw is broken would be provided.

All commercial incinerators also would come under control.

Initial response from industry was favorable. One operator said "if they've been able to meet these restrictions in Vancouver, we should be able to meet them here."

Committee chairman Ald. Geoffrey Edgelow said he expects "full co-operation will come" from industry if the bylaw is passed.

Flag Flap 'Trivia' Says Schools Chief

Greater Victoria School Board chairman W. C. Gelling Tuesday said he hoped local schools won't become involved in a growing controversy over the provincial flag.

He said a Vancouver school board decision, temporarily banning the flag was "straight out of Alice in Wonderland."

Esquimalt Trustee R. H. Reeve supported the Vancouver stand, maintaining that the Red Ensign, which had a long tradition behind it, should not be replaced by a meaningless provincial flag on school flagpoles.

"I was hoping it (the controversy) wouldn't spread to Victoria," said Mr. Gelling. "I think the whole thing is slightly ridiculous."

He said school boards have enough problems to solve "without branching into such trivia as whether we like or don't like the flag which, after all, is the official emblem of the province."

DEPUTY URGES TAXATION STUDY

'Trailer Homes Are Here
To Stay, Like It or Not'

Trailer homes may or may not be a good thing but they are here to stay, Deputy Municipal Affairs Minister J. E. Brown told more than 100 municipal officers from all parts of B.C. Tuesday.

During a general discussion of the Municipal Act at the annual conference of B.C. Municipal Officers' Association, Mr. Brown answered a number of queries about mobile homes.

"For better or for worse, mobile homes are with us to stay," he said.

"SUMPTUOUS"

"Nowadays they are getting very sumptuous. They are providing people with attractive, mass-produced homes at factory prices."

Some consideration should be given to their siting and planning for trailer parks, he said, suggesting that planners see to it they fit in with the general amenity of the community.

WHY NO MOVE?

On the question of taxing or licensing such homes, Mr.

Brown told delegates he is curious to know why municipalities have not tried to implement provincial legislation aimed at taxing trailer dwellers.

The legislation is not specifically for such homes, but it covers such things as houseboats and similar structures not considered real property.

The deputy minister said he is anxious to see some municipality make the attempt, and if problems arise they can be ironed out later.

A start must be made somewhere, he reasoned.

FAILED

A delegate mentioned an attempt in his municipality to impose tax on mobile home dwellers, resulting in failure.

Mr. Brown pointed out the mistake has been made in trying to put trailers on the general tax roll, but since they are not real property in the sense that they are permanent fixtures to land.

J. D. Baird, supervisor of municipalities, suggested municipalities might tax the owners of trailer parks and let him collect from the trailer owners.

INSECT THREAT GROWS ON HOT, DRY PRAIRIES

By The Canadian Press

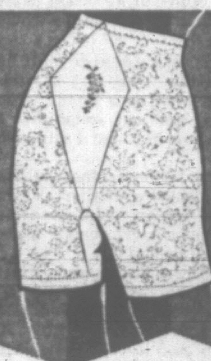

Insect infestation threatens farm crops in all three Prairie provinces, with hot, dry weather providing ideal hatching conditions for grasshopper, beetle and cutworm eggs.

A Manitoba Agriculture Department spokesman said Tuesday grasshoppers pose the main threat to crops in that province. He described the situation as more serious than at any time since the heavy infestation of 1955.

Montreal Leads the Nation In Novelties for Tourists

(Times writer Norman Cribbens has just returned from a vacation tour of Quebec. Here he tells of tourist attractions in the historic metropolis of Montreal)

Montreal is far ahead of most Canadian cities in its novelties for tourists. For instance, is the Garden of Wonders—a walled children's zoo that draws thousands of families to La Fontaine Park between spring and fall every year. The entrance is in the style of a typical Canadian house, and Mr. Owl, who lives just inside the entrance, is the first to greet visitors.

AQUARIUM

Next comes the House of the Grey Hen from the popular children's song, and then Jonah's Whale, his gaping mouth filled with an aquarium of gaily-colored fish.

Now we are on board Noah's Ark with an interesting cargo of small animal and a stuffed graffe with its long neck sticking out of the red-tiled roof.

Then—the water mill with its music box grinding out the tune of "Marianne s'en va-t-au noulin" while Marianne's donkeys graze near by.

Cinderella in her golden pumpkin coach drawn by four pink mice stands in The Enchanted Village, which also contains the House of Tom Thumb.

Then there is the sugar candy house which lured Hansel and Gretel into the hands of the wicked witch, and the windmill (with its miller asleep) performing to the tune of "Meunier tu dors".

THREE BEARS

Goldilocks is not in sight, but her beloved Three Bears play around their cosy log-built house, while next door three handsome penguins live in a summertime igloo.

Bambi the deer has a place of honor in a gentle woodland glade right next to a glassy enclosure containing a giant tortoise carrying a young visitor on its back.

This Garden of Wonders is a treat for young and old and a source of some considerable revenue to the city council.

CHIEF POKING FIRE

At Catanawaga, a few miles outside the city, burly Chief Poking Fire of the Iroquois Tribe presides over a model Indian village and puts on a display of native dances every afternoon at 4.

The chief, aged 71, is a showman in the style of Buffalo Bill. He receives visitors at any hour of the day in full costume complete with feathered headdress and buckskin suit and regalia, and legends about his people.

CURE-ALL

Between times, he sells his own herbal teas (for almost every imaginable ailment) at $1.50 a package.

The money from these enterprises goes to the upkeep of the local Indian hospital and other charities.

"My tribe is big," said the chief in his deep rumbling voice. "We number at least 3,300 and I need money to help care for them. Just now is difficult time. So many out of work."

"I'M RESPONSIBLE"

An eloquent talker with a French-Indian accent, the chief has been to Ottawa several times to press the government to compensate his tribe for loss of lands along the new St. Lawrence Seaway.

"I shall go there again," he said. "As long as I live I am responsible for my people."

When the chief dies, the leadership will pass to his eldest grandson, not to his son. By tradition—the title skips each generation.

$1.50 MONTHLY

Another tourist novelty is the Pets' Cemetery, south of Montreal. Here in a plot no more than 100 yards long are the graves of some 400 animals, mostly dogs and cats, maintained at a fee of $1.50 a month by their owners.

"Why don't they bury them in their back gardens?" I asked a civic official.

"Many of our older people have no gardens," he replied. "And they like to have them remembered in this fashion, with a small headstone and a suitable inscription."

Blow for Germans!

BONN (AP)—German beer drinkers, who for centuries have proudly regarded themselves as the world's greatest, got a shock today. The country's brewers announced the Belgians and Luxembourgers down an average of five gallons more than the 25 gallons a year the German averages.

FAST STRAW—Lapping up his lunch is not to the liking of this London cat, "Tiddles." He prefers the neat, modern way—a straw.

'New Sound' And Eleanor For Weekend

Always popular Eleanor Collins will sing Friday and Saturday nights with the "new sound" at Club Tango.

The lovely Vancouver singer will star in two appearances each evening, backed by the Buddy Glover quartet.

Clubman Ed Hicks said pianist Glover, reed player Pete Thompson, bassist Fred Wyatt and drummer George Porter are responsible for the new sound.

Officers Censured By Probe

OTTAWA (CP)—The Petawawa Youth Club investigation has ended with a knuckle-rapping for certain officers and a money-back guarantee for unwilling soldier yachtsmen.

The inquiry was ordered in March after two members of the 2nd Battalion, Canadian Guards, said their commander was forcing 800 guardsmen to join the two-sailboat club.

Defence Minister Harkness said Tuesday commanding officer Col. A. D. Egan did not personally order his men to join the sailing club, but one of his immediate subordinates did and will be disciplined.

All ranks have been offered a reimbursement of the yachting fees they paid.

TWO for the SHOW

By PHIL LEE

AA (Oscar Class) BB (Worthwhile) C (Don't Miss) D (To put in time)

(OSCAR CLASS) "MEIN KAMPF" (Capitol)—Only the emotionally ill could look at this two-hour documentary concerned with the rise and fall of Adolf Hitler and the Third Reich, "Mein Kampf," and derive pleasure from it. It is ghastly.

Nonetheless, all who are old enough should see this brilliantly assembled celluloid story of a by-product of war, if only to realize how precariously close to the brink of primordial ooze we live in spite of our antiseptic life, our cultures won over millions of years and our jaunty junkets into outer space.

One tip of our ordered world into the abyss of war and man is back in his jungles as though he never left them.

What makes "Mein Kampf" so unutterably horrible and at the same time so fascinating is that the story, written and edited by Swedish Jew Erwin Leiser, cannot be ascribed to Allied or Jewish propaganda. The documentary is made up of German film taken by Hitler's minions as a record of their own evilness.

Whatever one thought before, after seeing "Mein Kampf" one knows for sure that the trial of Adolf Eichmann in Israel is more than justified. It is a nation's duty to see that the least of these fiends be brought to the bar of justice, if only to have his crimes against humanity formally catalogued.

Some of the scenes: A still picture of Hitler as a child in rompers... films of children, their parents and friends in the Warsaw ghetto slowly dying on their less than 200 calories a day... cadavers being thrown down a slide into a lime pit... seemingly acres and acres of death houses... mounds and mounds of human teeth, hair and spectacles... a small boy, perhaps near death; dancing a jig in an effort to gain a penny for food...

But, perhaps worst of all, is the sleek viciousness of Hitler himself, ominously advancing in power through gangsterism and intrigue to be chief of the new German state of death...

Nor should one forget the incredible sight of hundreds and thousands of German faces looking up at this paper-hanger-turned-butcher with an adulation and light in their eyes that one associates with disciples glimpsing the Messiah.

"Mein Kampf" is for the record—one to look back on as a reminder that such chaos of horror must never be allowed to happen again so long as man has a say in his own affairs.

HE WENT FOR POPCORN ... SHE'S HOLDING BAG

DENVER, Colo. (AP)—Mrs. Betty Coslow, 34, told a divorce court Tuesday she's still waiting for her husband, Jess, to return with the bag of popcorn he went to get Sept. 2, 1959.

Mrs. Coslow said they went to a movie together and after the first feature her husband left to go to the lobby for popcorn. She said she hasn't seen him since. Her divorce request is under advisement.

Birmingham Boys Confident Soccer Sun Will Climb

By DOUG FEDEEN

Birmingham City is a football club with confidence in the future.

That's not to suggest that the budding lads of manager Gil Merrick are a brash and swaggering crew. Far from it. The men and boys who will pack the blue shirts of Birmingham against the Victoria All-Stars at Royal Athletic Park tonight appear carefree and modest.

But through the ranks from Merrick on down seems to run a quiet conviction that the soccer sun of Birmingham City is climbing toward noon-day brilliance.

Although the club finished well down the table in the first division of the English League this season, there are some excellent reasons for the optimistic outlook. And right at the top of the list of candidates to lead City out of the fifth forest are four youngsters—goalie Colin Withers, halfback Terry Hennessey and inside forwards Malcolm Beard and Winston Foster.

The tall Hennessey, an 18-year-old hustler who is rated one of the brightest prospects in the round ball pastime, and Withers, 20, are being touted as future internationals. Hennessey is slated for action tonight on the half line with rugged ace Trevor Smith and Dick Neil, but Withers will take a rest while veteran Johnny Schofield looks after the goal-tending chores.

Merrick figures Beard and Foster, both 19 and listed for reserve duty tonight, can't miss and when they "arrive" he believes the "Brums" will be moving up the ladder.

"It could be next year," says the husky former international netminder who took over the managerial reins last summer. But while Merrick is waiting for the youth movement to produce, he isn't overlooking the contributions of tested regulars like Jimmy Bloomfield, who have made City a solid side.

Bloomfield, obtained from Arsenal last November for $78,000, is the force that keeps the wheels turning on the front line. "He's the man who makes us go," says Merrick.

Quick and agile, although not fast over a distance, Bloomfield, excels in ball control and tactical ability. Working at inside right, Bloomfield is an expert at setting up scoring plays and often hesitates about using his powerful shot.

It is no secret that Merrick would like to see Bloomfield shoot more, but the slender forward doesn't appear anxious to switch his tactics.

"They all say I should shoot more," Bloomfield commented after Tuesday's workout at Macdonald Park. "Perhaps it is a fault, but it's my style. Maybe I see it different from others. I've always felt I help most by working the ball."

Now 27 and nine years a professional, Bloomfield is happy with his lot at Birmingham after stints at Brentford and Arsenal, believes the open and direct-attacking system of Merrick suits his own style of play.

Like his mates, Jimmy feels there is a brighter future for the Brums, one of the youngest clubs in the English loop.

And he expects better things ahead for England in international soccer and greater security for himself, mostly because of the new wage agreement, which was long overdue.

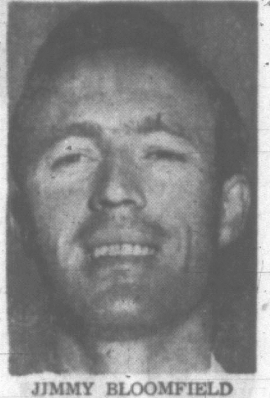

Under the new arrangement, which will be in effect next season, players are no longer bound by a maximum wage clause and can negotiate their own salaries.

"It's for the good of football," said Bloomfield. "When the maximum wage was in force, it made people inclined to stop trying to improve after they reached a certain standard. Now there's no limit, which means there is a tremendous incentive for a player to keep on improving.

"It won't make a star out of an average player, but it should make players with talent strive to reach their greatest potential. It could mean quite a lot to England."

It could also mean that the Birmingham lads will be trying to impress the club brass of their value when they line up against the Victoria side at 8 tonight, which, in turn, could add up to a rough evening for the All-Stars.

JIMMY BLOOMFIELD

May's Leaders Swoon in June

Cincinnati Redlegs still are on top in the National League race and Los Angeles Dodgers still are just a half-game behind. But what has happened to San Francisco Giants?

The club that led through the month of May has done nothing but swoon in June, losing five of six games this month in a skid to third spot. The Giants have won only two of their last 10 engagements. They dropped their second in a row to Philadelphia Tuesday

Proper Lift

Popping the ball into the air is an almost universal fault of the average golfer.

It usually is caused by slamming too hard from the top of the swing. This causes the right shoulder to drop and results in the ball being scooped, instead of hit through. If you're skying the ball, try slowing down the backswing.

Trying to lift the ball is one of the worst mistakes a golfer can make. If you're topping the ball, the chances are you are not letting the clubhead pick it up and give it the proper lift. The tendency to try to lift the ball is particularly noticeable on fairway shots.

Topping can also be caused by swaying and straightening up on the backswing, with the weight entirely on the right foot.

This means that on the downswing you are almost certain to shift the weight to the left foot too soon—ahead of the club, giving the ball a top or overspin that will send it bouncing along on the ground.

City Snipers Hot on Range

VANCOUVER—Hitting the targets with deadly accuracy, a contingent of Victoria shooters captured all three championship events fired Tuesday at Blair Range in the 77th annual B.C. Rifle Association prize meeting.

TIME OUT! JEFF KEATE

"Their pitcher is getting stronger. . . This inning he's bounced the ball off the bats over the fence twice!"

Rebuff Won't Stop Bid by Syndicate

CHICAGO (AP)—A syndicate seeking to purchase the Chicago White Sox indicated Tuesday it will continue its efforts to close the deal for another 30 days despite an apparent rebuff by the White Sox officials.

Monday, negotiations between the syndicate, headed by comedian Danny Thomas, and Sox officials, blew up when the president, Bill Veeck, said there would be a delay in the club's decision.

Stukus Honored

EDMONTON (CP)—Edmonton Eskimos of the Western Football Conference have announced the formation of an alumni association whose first act will be to establish an Annis Stukus annual award for the best coach in Canadian football. Stukus, a one-time great with Toronto Argos and other eastern teams, coached Edmonton through 1949 to 1951 and British Columbia Lions from 1954 to 1956.

Favorites Step Ahead In Race for City Title

Favorites marched forward in the first round of match play in the city women's golf championship Tuesday at Victoria Golf Club.

Medalist Margaret Todd easily defeated Mrs. M. Coxworth, 8 and 6. Defending champion Shirley Naysmith moved ahead with a 7-and-5 victory over Mrs. R. Saunders.

In other first round results: Mrs. A. Robbins defeated Mrs. F. Skillings, 8 and 7; Mrs. L. Thirlwell defeated A. Osborough, 2 and 1; Mrs. W. Hicks defeated Mrs. V. Godfrey, one up; Mrs. K. Lawson defeated Mrs. G. Harris, 4 and 3; Mrs. H. MacKenzie defeated Mrs. H. Mearns, 3 and 2; and Mrs. H. McIntyre won by default.

Mrs. Todd clashed with Mrs. Robbins in today's quarter-finals, while Mrs. Naysmith matched strokes with Mrs. Thirlwell. If both stayed on the victory trail, they'll meet in Thursday's semifinals.

Today's other matches sent Mrs. Lawson against Mrs. Hicks and Mrs. McIntyre against Mrs. MacKenzie.

Final round is slated Friday. Today's other matches sent Mrs. Lawson against Mrs. Hicks and Mrs. McIntyre against Mrs. MacKenzie.

Chief type of fraud noted in all categories was irregular disposal of assets. The report shows, first of all, that business failures last year reached 15,445, the highest figure in more than 25 years while liabilities of the failures hit an all-time high of $938,630,000, surpassing by $10 million the previous record set in 1932.

INCOMPETENCE ENDS MANY FIRMS

While the largest number of failures, 58.6 per cent, were recorded by firms in business five years or less, still a little over one-fifth of the failures were firms which had passed the 10-year mark, and another one-fifth were in the six-to-10-year category.

Incidentally, although fraud played a minor part in the total business failures, the chief reason given for failure is simply incompetence. Incompetence followed by lack of managerial experience, unbalanced experience and lack of experience in the particular line of business was equated by—in order—adequate sales, competitive weakness, difficulties with receivables, heavy operating expenses, excessive fixed assets and inventory difficulties.

SOLUTION FRIDAY

IT HAPPENED LAST NIGHT

By EARL WILSON

NEW YORK—I've got that feeling inside," Tony Martin said, "of a guy who doesn't know whether he wants to get married—while he's getting married."

It's summer stock that's bugging him. He's about to do his first stage show—playing Skye Masterson in "Guys and Dolls"—at Framingham, Mass., and Wallingford, Conn. And his Hollywood and Broadway chums are trying to increase his stagefright.

"Every day I realize, like the bridegroom does, it's too late to back out," trembles Tony.

His B.W. Cyd Charisse is encouraging him—"but then she might just want to get me out of the house," he reasons. The all-ham cast includes Alan King, Jaye P. Morgan and Slapsie Maxie Rosenbloom.

What's he worried about? Oh, about getting sick opening night, about blowing every line.

"I forgot my line when Alan King and I were rehearsing, then he forgot his," Tony said. "I said, 'What if we do this on stage?'"

King told him "You just say, 'Remember when I sang 'Begin the Beguine' down at the mission?' Sing it. By the time you're done, I'll remember my next line. Not yours, Mine."

Franchot Tone and Meg Myles, Tom Poston and Susan Pleshette partnered at the "Pal Joey" party at the Living Room. . . . Joey Bishop'll help at Frank Sinatra's Sands opening June 7. "Frank does not draw very well alone," cracks Joey. . . . The Fitzgerald (NBC) Smiths had a dtr. . . . Skinny Enzo Stuarti who opened "officially" at the "plaza had 'em yelling and screaming, and saying 'Another Sinatra' (naturally since he's from W. Paterson, N.J.).

Arthur, Lou, Sc. and Sc. res. Jane Barry are very close. . . . Norma Douglas, Steve Condos (Nick's dancing-drumming brother), Woody Herman and Singer Frank Gari got a big welcome at the Waldorf Empire Room. Norma's mother, up in Grant, N.Y., sent her flowers, addressed to "the Empire State Bldg., care of the Waldorf-Astoria."

MIDNIGHT EARL.
Dancer Faith Dane, who's been trying to sue producer David Merrick, sat next to him at the Blue Angel. As he left she called, "Don't worry—I don't have the summons with me." . . . Prince Rainier and Princess Grace'll take the kids on their state visit to Ireland. (They all left quietly for Paris, via Air France). . . . Jack Benny says he likes to work at Harrah's in Lake Tahoe "because the people are so friendly, and so are the slot machines". . . . Jane Froman won't do summer stock, will write her memoirs instead.

Singer Patti Page'll play another straight role in Boy's Night Out. . . . Phil Silvers introduces Sir Laurence Olivier—who has played both major roles in "Becket"—as "the world's highest salaried switch-hitter". . . . Boss Jules Podell gave singer Connie Francis, closing at his Copa, a diamond pin. (During her last engagement they battled). . . . Authoress Françoise Sagan plays a bit role in her "Good-bye Again," with Ingrid Bergman. . . . Brigitte Bardot's off to Switzerland to film "Private Lives."

Yul Brynner introduced his wife to Dixieland jazz at Eddie Condon's place. . . . Young Warren Berlinger of "Come Blow Your Horn" is investing in Washington, D.C., housing developments. . . . "Fantasticks," the off-Bway hit now in its second year, has 151 backers. . . . One of the unluckiest of the male entertainers is losing heavily again while working in Las Vegas.

EARL'S PEARLS: It's possible to possess too much. A man with one watch knows what time it is; a man with two watches is never sure.—Lee Segall, KIDL, Oallies.

TODAY'S BEST LAUGH: A fellow boasted about his sure-fire reducing diet: "I never eat while my wife is talking."

Dave Astor insists at the Copa that advertising pays: "Ever since they put those 'Smokey the Bear' ads in the New York subways there hasn't been a single forest fire in Manhattan." . . . That's earl, brother.

LOCAL BRIEFS

Three reading clubs for school children will be held this summer, Victoria Public Library announced today.

Registration forms are available in the library's children's department.

Beginning July 3, the clubs will operate for six weeks providing programs of stories, music and films as well as guidance on book borrowing.

The clubs are designed for children entering grades one to three, grades four to six and grades seven to nine.

Infinite Way Study Group will have a session at the Empress Hotel June 9, 10 and 11 when Mrs. Eileen Bowden will conduct a hearing of tapes from the Joel Goldsmith class in Riverside, Cal.

Victoria West-sixth annual flower show will be held in St. Saviour's Parish Hall Saturday from 2:30 to 9 p.m.

Is there something you want to know? Do you want to win a set of valuable books or other instructive prizes? Then ask Andy.

Andy will answer questions submitted by child readers and those who submit the questions he selects to answer will receive worthwhile prizes.

The youngster who asks the first question answered each day receives a 20-volume set of the World Book Encyclopedia and of the second question a Hammond Atlas of Globe.

Address your questions to "Ask Andy," Victoria Daily Times.

Andy sends a complete, 20-volume set of the World Book Encyclopedia to Teresa Ware, age 11, of Magee, Miss., for her question:

Is the Mole a Rodent?
Come summer, Mr. Mole makes a nuisance of himself by digging tunnels under the garden and heaving piles of fresh dirt on the green lawn.

Andy is having much the same trouble with a busy gopher. The gopher is a true rodent, or gnawing animal, and he has a pair of big buck teeth to prove it. He feeds by gnawing on bulbs and roots. Mr. Mole, however, feeds only on insects. Because of this the name of his scientific order is Insectivora, the insect eaters. The gopher and his ratty cousins are classed in the order Rodenta, the gnawers.

No gardener wants either a mole or a gopher for a tenant. But of the two, the mole is less destructive to our plants and in the long run he may be more friendly than enemy. For he dines on many of the insects which dine on our plants. The gopher joins the enemy insects and eats the plants. There are a few more good things to be said for the mole, if we can forgive him for the mess he makes.

The family tree of the insectivores goes way back to the days of the giant dinosaurs. Fossil records show that their ancestors lived more than 50 million years ago. These small, furry creatures were the first of the mammals, the first animals to give birth to live babies and feed them on mother's milk. Though the original ancestor of the mole was very like a mousy little shrew, he had the great honor of being the first of the most advanced group of animals on earth—the mammals.

The modern mole, like his ancestor, has a mouth full of very sharp little teeth. He has a long snout and a coat of short, silky fur. On his rare visits above ground, he waddles along on four flat feet armed with mighty claws. His cousins, the mousy little shrews and the prickly hedgehogs, share these features and are also classed as insectivores. The true hedgehogs, however, are not related to our prickly porcupine, who is a rodent.

Mr. Mole, like his ancestors, has a small and simple brain which means that he is not too smart. But what the little fellow lacks in brains he makes up for in character. No other animal works so hard or so long. He is brave and fearless, always ready to fight an invader with all his might.

Once a year, to find soft material to build a nest, the mole comes up from his tunnels. His eyes, no bigger than pin heads, can hardly tell light from dark and his daring trip often costs him his life. But down in the soil, he is king. Here he has few enemies for he is a better fighter than the gopher or any other animal he may find in his burrows.

Six young physicians are the first ever to graduate from North Sumatra University's faculty of medicine.

YACHT GROUP OPPOSES LICENSING PROPOSAL

VANCOUVER (CP)—The Council of British Columbia Yacht Clubs has sent a brief to the Federal Transport Department opposing proposals for licensing of small-boat operators.

The brief says safety at sea can best be assured by proper enforcement of present regulations and an extensive educational program in the schools and elsewhere. At present flagrant disregard of regulations is common among small-boat operators, it says.

Portugal Links Russia-U.S. As African 'Troublemakers'

UNITED NATIONS, N.Y. In a speech to the 11-nation Security Council, Portuguese Ambassador Vasco Veira Garin named Russia as a "permanent trouble maker" in Africa. He did not mention by name the United States, which is Portugal's ally in NATO.

but said the "two major powers" were making use of the Angolan troubles to vie for support from other African countries.

Portugal lodged a "vehement protest" against the Security Council's decision to take up the question of Angola, declaring that the African territory is an integral part of Portugal's national area and that the UN charter's injunction against interference in domestic affairs applies there.

RESOLUTION SUBMITTED

Despite the protest, Liberian Ambassador Nathan Barnes, in co-sponsorship with Ceylon and the United Arab Republic, submitted a resolution calling on Portugal to end "repressive measures" in Angola.

The three-power resolution also called upon Portugal to "extend every facility" to a five-nation subcommittee appointed in April to investigate conditions in Angola. Although the 42 Afro-Asian powers and Yugoslavia, which summoned today's council meeting, decided not to make such a demand specifically, the wording of the resolution left it open to the subcommittee to go to Angola for an on-the-spot inquiry.

'BRUTAL SLAUGHTER' CHARGED

Barnes charged that Angolan leaders were being "brutally slaughtered" by the Portuguese and said 80,000 refugees already were in neighboring Congo.

Envoy Special Sedan

"I like Envoy's winning ways—in all ways!" writes Miss Mary Cameron of Toronto, busy career girl who recently joined the growing ranks of Envoy owners. "I would like you to know how much I enjoy driving my Envoy... it makes travelling so much simpler. And my friends also admire the sleek lines and glamorous colors—you may be sure heads turn when I drive by in my Envoy!"

Winning parkability "That steering column gearshift is so handy—and the steering wheel turns so easily... why, it's a cinch to park my Envoy, even downtown!", Miss Cameron reports.

Winning convenience "The five-passenger roominess is a real bonus: I am able to give friends lifts home and there is certainly lots of room... the big doors let everyone in and out with no trouble!"

Winning ease Miss Cameron makes frequent week-end trips to visit her mother out of town. "Even on the roughest roads, or snow-covered highways, I've had no trouble driving," she reports.

Winning loadability "Luggage for week-end trips, even bulky objects like floor polishers are no problem with the roomy trunk in my Envoy," Miss Cameron has found.

Winning economy "For a girl who's got to watch her expenses, this is the ideal car—low in cost to begin with, it saves money on the road, too!"

MONTE ROBERTS

Never underestimate the power of the Vote No forces. Long a strong factor in this, the fairest city of them all, the Vote No forces have now spread to the mainland, and are making a plucky stand in, of all places, the progressive, bustling, hustling metropolis which has almost (but not quite) outlived the name Gastown.

Yes, the Vote No forces have reared up in Vancouver, and what they are Voting No about is the British Columbia flag which was found, after great research, by Premier Bennett in London, England.

In running fashion, the Vote No forces first infiltrated the Greater Vancouver School Board, and through it have issued what amounts to a cease and desist order with regard to flying the new flag (which is actually an old flag) over school property.

The Vote No forces take a dim view of this B.C. flag, undoubtedly through the use of very dark sunglasses, this being the only way the flag can be viewed dimly.

I am surprised to find opposition to this flag, because there is much to recommend it.

For one thing, the premier had to go all the way to England to find it.

I am heartily in favor of the premier going all the way to England.

This is good for promoting a better understanding within the Commonwealth, even though he DID come back. For another thing, the flag is just the ticket for flying over the Legislature when the Legislature is in session.

This keeps people's minds off what is going on down below.

It is ideally suited as a conversation piece.

Hang one over the fireplace in your rumpus room, and your guests will never lack for conversation, or even rumpus.

But what I like best about the B.C. flag is its obvious value at sea.

Fly the B.C. flag upside down, and there can be no mistake that the vessel flying it is in distress.

When the B.C. flag is upside down, by golly, there's no fooling about it.

Whoever saw a poached egg sizzling down instead of up?

So I do hope the Vote No forces, which have deployed themselves on the mainland, will stay there, and let this, the Fairest City of them All, enjoy this admirable atrocity to the fullest.

Two Ready To Contest Byelection

They are R. W. Chard and G. Stanley Eden.

Mr. Chard, 40, who has been practising law here for the past 31 years, said he is seeking election because he wants to make sure there is no "tin-horn" housing development in the vicinity of the new Gordon Head Victoria College Campus.

INDUSTRY STUDY

He also favors a serious study of areas for light industrial use.

A graduate of the University of Alberta, Mr. Chard ran in the December elections and was defeated by only 34 votes. He lives at 3774 Hobbs.

Mr. Eden is a former councillor, having served on council intermittently between 1928 and 1956. He is a member of the Saanich police commission.

THREE SCHOOLS TOAST WINNERS

Cheer Section Sounds Off For Strike-It-Rich Youth

An ovation which seemed to go on and on was given Murray E. McClung, 15, by his fellow students at Lansdowne Junior High School today when Times publisher Stuart Keate presented him with a $500 scholarship.

He qualified for the scholarship when the sponsors of the "Ask Andy" column, which appears daily in the Times, selected a question of his for answering in the column Nov. 14.

ONLY CANADIAN

His prize at that time was a 20-volume set of the World Book Encyclopedia, plus the right to be a possible winner of one of five $500 scholarships. All 1960 encyclopedia winners in North America were eligible, and he was the only Canadian chosen.

CHEERS

The applause was general when Mr. Keate gave Murray a plaque commemorating his award, but the cheers broke out when he gave the 15-year-old student the $500 cheque.

"It's a United States cheque, so I'd like to make up the two per cent you would lose through the exchange difference," Mr. Keate said, giving him an additional $10 in cash.

BOOK PRIZES

Murray was not the only prizewinner of the day. Barbara Hutchison, 14, was acclaimed at the Lansdowne assembly as one of two Victoria winners of book prizes in an essay contest sponsored by the Royal Commonwealth Society.

Not far away, at Oak Bay Senior High School, Cheryl Borris, 15, a Grade 10 student, was announced as the other Victoria area essay winner.

A fourth honor went to Lloyd Cook, Victoria High

School, whose mural submitted in the annual school arts competition for the Canadian National Exhibition was the winner for B.C. Almost 17 years of age and in Grade 11, he lives at 3019 Carroll Street.

Lansdowne finished its hour-long assembly this morning with finals in a spelling bee, conducted by Donald G. Macdonald, principal.

HOUSE THREE WINS

Twelve students, representing all three grades in the four houses, wrote 20 words in the test, and House Three was winner on points.

Top individual was Doris Miller, who managed such words as "ubiquitous," "obedience," and "harassment," but was defeated by "impugn" and "incendiary." Her closest competitor in the bee had 15 words correct.

SHE COULD

"Can you spell Tsawwassen?" Mr. Keate asked as he was about to present her with the school's perpetual challenge cup.

She did, and she got the cup.

Pearkes to 'Call In' On Indian Villages

Governor Guest Of Navy

Lieutenant-Governor George Pearkes will visit Indian villages and communities on the west coast of Vancouver Island and adjacent areas on the mainland during the week of June 19 to 24.

Government House officials believe this is the first time a B.C. lieutenant-governor has made such a tour.

The Governor will travel in the Pacific Command destroyer escort HMCS Assiniboine, senior ship of the Second Canadian escort squadron, commanded by Capt. John Charles.

She will be escorted by sister ships Skeena and Margaree.

SUMMER TRAINING

All three destroyers will have Regular Office Training Plan cadets—midshipmen embarked for a summer training cruise in the North Pacific areas.

The ROTP cadets, all in their third year, are from Royal Military College and various universities across Canada.

The ships leave Esquimalt at 8.30 a.m. June 19.

The lieutenant-governor will make official visits to Bamfield (June 19), Clayoquot and Nootka (June 20), Quatsino (June 21), Bella Coola (June 22), Sointula, Port McNeill and Alert Bay (June 23).

CARRY ON

His honor will return by air from Alert Bay, while the destroyers carry on with the training cruise.

The three ships will visit Kitimat June 26 to 28, and for the period July 1 to 5 will visit separate Alaskan ports where ships' companies will observe the American Independence Day.

Assiniboine will be at Juneau, Margaree at Ketchikan, and Skeena at Skagway.

The three will rejoin to reach Kodiak July 7, leaving July 10 to return to Esquimalt on the morning of July 13.

ASK The TIMES

Q. What can you tell me about the origin of the game of chess—N.V.

A. The origin of the game is lost in antiquity, but it is one of the most cosmopolitan of all games, being played on every continent. In the form in which it is played in the west, it is derived from the Arabic game, and many of the terms used (such as checkmate) are Arabic. Chess is generally believed to have originated either in India or Persia, but this is difficult to establish. It came into Europe either through the Arab conquerors of Spain or through Italian traders to the Byzantine world, which would mean that it was known in Europe by about the eleventh or twelfth century.

Anyone wishing a question answered in this column should send it along to The Times, addressed to "Ask the Times" Editor, Questions and Answers will be published daily.

All questions should deal with matters of fact and be of general interest. The Times does not undertake to solve conundrums or legal problems. Nor will it attempt to give a value on old coins, stamps or antiques. These should be submitted to a dealer.

CHATTERTON:

'B.C., Ottawa Ignoring Our Planners'

Saanich Reeve George Chatterton Tuesday charged the federal and provincial governments with ignoring vital plans for the development of the Greater Victoria area and southern Vancouver Island.

The reeve, MP-elect for Esquimalt-Saanich, made the charge before leaving for Ottawa to take his seat in the House of Commons.

Accompanying him on his trip is his son, Drew.

He plans to return to Victoria in about three weeks. Before returning here, he will attend an international conference of mayors in Washington, D.C.

The reeve was critical of senior governments for ignoring the Capital Region Planning Board which is responsible for the planning of southern Vancouver Island.

DISREGARDED

He accused the provincial governments of completely disregarding the board in preparing a detailed plan for the re-allocation of the Patricia Bay Highway.

The B.C. Highway Department, he said, has approved plans for the re-allocation of a section of the highway at the airport without referring them to the board.

It also had not yet consulted the board with regard to the re-allocation of the southern part of Patricia Bay Highway from Royal Oak south.

The reeve said the highway changes are of vital importance to the Greater Victoria area.

'BLINDLY AHEAD'

"They have gone blindly ahead without any regard for plans that may exist for the development of this highway and the surrounding area," he stated.

The reeve also took to task the federal government for not consulting the board with regard to the proposed construction of a $2,500,000 marine office and store building on Belleville next to the Canadian Pacific ferry docks.

The board, he said, is preparing plans for the development and beautification of the Inner Harbor.

'LUDICROUS'

"The situation is ludicrous," said the reeve. "Both governments support planning and completely disregard it. There is no excuse for not co-operating with the municipalities."

Anthony Roberts, director of the Capital Region Planning Board, confirmed the reeve's statement.

"The detailed plan of the highway, especially the southern section, is most important to us," he said. "The new path of the arterial route will influence both land values and use and definitely affect the pattern of secondary highways."

He noted that the lack of government co-operation with the board is creating problems — problems which were proving costly to the Greater Victoria area.

'RARE PROBLEM'

Mailbox Raider Hunted

Police and postal investigators are seeking a mailbox thief who broke open four boxes and damaged at least 46 pieces of mail overnight Monday.

The mailboxes were located within a three-quarter-mile area of north Victoria and just inside the Saanich boundary.

Postmaster A. M. Davies said it could not be determined whether any mail is missing.

"It is a rare problem in any area," Mr. Davies said. "People generally respect mail receptacles."

The damaged mail was ripped open and scattered, some of it left near a mailbox at Quadra and Finlayson, where it was found by newspaper boys Garry Quilty, 3225 Harriet, and Garry Knight, 510 Kelvin, at 6.30 a.m. Tuesday.

City and Saanich police were notified and broken mailboxes were found at Cloverdale and Bethune, Douglas and Larch, and Quadra and Summit.

The mail recovered by the post office included letters, cheques and money orders, some intact, some damaged.

REPAIRED

A total of 45 pieces were repaired and remailed with explanatory notes from the post office. One item, recognizable only as a cheque believed drawn on the Bank of Montreal, is held by the department pending identification.

Anyone who mailed a cheque in the area after collection time Monday is asked to contact the postmaster.

A conviction for tampering with the mails is punishable by a minimum six months, maximum 10 years in prison.

$60,000 Loss In Water Blamed On Wet Spring

Greater Victoria Water Board has suffered the worst sales start this year in its 12-year history.

A $60,000 deficit has been piled up already as a result of the wet spring—which drained off considerable demand for water—commissioner Ronald Upward told the board today.

Normal summer pickup should cut this deficit but the long-range weather outlook does not show promise of record heat waves that would be needed to make a complete recovery.

Mr. Upward guessed that the board will wind up the year with a $25,000 deficit, compared with last year's $25,000 surplus.

TOPICS OF THE DAY

A meeting of the Victoria Chamber of Commerce transportation and harbor group called for Friday noon has been postponed until Monday noon in the Colonial Inn.

A Victoria student has graduated from the School of Theology at Boston University. He is Robert James Moore, of 3249 Quadra Street, who received his Bachelor of Science in Theology at the university commencement exercises which took place in Boston last Sunday.

Lester B. Pearson, leader of the opposition in the House of Commons addressed the Commencement, at which 2,227 students graduated.

Kirpal Singh Basi, 20, of 531 East Burnside, was fined $20 when he pleaded guilty in city police court today to being a minor in possession of three bottles of beer in a parked car on Topaz.

800 Brownies To 'Pow Wow' At Beacon Hill

Approximately 800 Brownies are expected to attend a giant pow-wow and sing-song at Beacon Hill Park Saturday.

The Greater Victoria area Brownie Revel will start at 1.30 p.m. at the Mayors' Grove. Mrs. W. S. Hamilton, division commissioner, is in charge of the program.

The Brownies will be divided into "sixes" and will sing together the sixer song, repeat the "promise and law" and gather around a "toaststool" where Mrs. W. S. Emmerton, area commissioner will speak to them.

Games will be played and refreshments served.

Farmer Construction Ltd. has been awarded a $98,150 contract for lining about 1,000 feet of the Japan Gulch tunnel of Greater Victoria Water Board with concrete to prevent erosion near the tunnel entrances.

The tunnel, being built in stages, eventually will total five miles to provide a direct link between the Sooke Lake and Goldstream watersheds.

Attorney-General Robert Bonner and Recreation Minister Earle Westwood left here Tuesday night for San Francisco, where they will leave premises for British Columbia's new trade and tourist office on Market Street.

They are expected to return here next Saturday.

Mr. Bonner will attend a conference of B.C. magistrates in Penitentiary on Aug. 13 to 15.

Lt.-Colonel M. G. Humphreys and Major D. de Waller, two British Army officers on exchange duty at Army Headquarters, Ottawa, will pay a two-day visit to Victoria beginning Thursday.

Both officers are members of the Royal Army Ordnance Corps and are on a tour of Canadian Army military establishments.

While in Victoria, they will visit the Esquimalt Garrison at Work Point barracks.

Clifford Nels Olsen, 20, of Sooke, was remanded to next week for probation report and sentence when he pleaded guilty in Sooke RCMP court Tuesday to stealing a pickup truck Sunday.

Police said he took a truck, property of Gerald Van Hump, of Sooke, drove it to Victoria and Saanich, then back to Sooke before he was arrested.

Novelty 'Mice' Sticks Add to the Party Fun

By PENNY SAVER

If your son or daughter is planning to have a few friends in soon to celebrate high school graduation add a perky note to a tray of cheese and crackers by using some of the novelty plastic cheese sticks I saw this week. These are in the form of cheeky little mice and their long tails rise up to make the stick. For $1.50 you can get a plastic box containing one dozen. They come in pink, blue and white.

With a party in the offing, you'll want to have the house gleaming bright. To add to that well-kept look make sure that leaves of house plants are shining and healthy by giving them a coating of plant shine that sells at 50 cents. There is enough in one bottle to cover over 2,000 average-sized leaves. Applicator is included in kit.

Drying instantly, this shine will give a permanent lustre yet still allow the plants to breathe. It can be used to great advantage on philodendrons, ivy and other decorative plants.

Living in the vicinity of the "tallest totem pole in the world" it's not surprising to find that manufacturers have now come up with chinaware fashioned to represent our famous Thunderbird motif. There are generously-sized coffee mugs in warm colors that sell at 89 cents each and matching sets that contain a teapot and cream and sugar dishes. Set is priced at $1.95. There are also colorful salts and peppers selling at 49 cents a pair. Some of this ware would give a note of gaiety to a barbecue party and dress up the "galley" of the family boat.

DEAR ABBY

Now Try for the Gold Ring, Honey!

By ABIGAIL VAN BUREN

DEAR ABBY: I am 19. For the past three years I have been having a love affair with a man 52. He had a business close to my home so it was easy for me to see him every day. Someone told his wife about it, and he sold out and left town. He didn't even say goodbye.

I know he loves me because we were so happy when we were together. His wife is just hanging onto him for his money. Young men laugh at me because I am large—195 pounds. Can you help me?

STILL WAITING

DEAR WAITING: Don't waste your time waiting for a man who belongs to somebody else. Your 52-year-old Romeo took advantage of your youth and loneliness. Trim your figure down to fighting weight, and fight your way back to a decent life. An ounce of self-respect is worth 195 pounds of excuses.

DEAR ABBY: I am a refined woman over 50, have a good income and own my own home and car. I have been seeing a gentleman for the past two years. He's sort of retired. He plays cards and loafs, but is a good dresser, wonderful company, and is well-liked. I have discovered that I am getting only half of him. And I do not care for the half I am getting. He devotes Monday, Tuesday, Wednesday and half of Thursday to me. But the rest of the week he is busy with a "companion" he has had for 20 years.

Knowing his income was limited, I have been paying both his way and mine when we go anywhere. He didn't buy me a valentine, saying it was just a man-made holiday for the benefit of the merchants. But he gave her one. I am very hurt over this and wonder if I shouldn't drop him for good.

Model Nuptial Salad

For the June wedding buffet, here's a beautiful moulded salad. Of course, it is perfect also for any other gala occasion, such as a graduation party. It can be prepared ahead of time.

SMOOTH AND SAVORY NUPITAL SALAD

One package lemon-flavored gelatin, 1 cup hot water, ½ cup cold water, ½ cup mayonnaise, 1 teaspoon vinegar, 1 teaspoon horseradish, ½ teaspoon salt, ¼ teaspoon hot pepper sauce, 1 (4½-ounce) can deviled ham, ¼ cup grated sharp cheese, ¼ cup diced green pepper, 2 tablespoons diced pimento.

Dissolve gelatin in hot water. Stir in and mix well cold water, mayonnaise, vinegar, horseradish and salt. Chill until mixture becomes thick. On bottom of 1 quart mold, spread thin layer of deviled ham. Combine remaining deviled ham with hot pepper sauce, cheese, pepper and pimento. Fold into thickened gelatin mixture. Pour into mold and chill until thickened. Unmold on crisp salad greens.

Bride and Groom Feted Prior to Their Wedding

Prior to her recent marriage, Miss Shirley Joyce Stonehouse, now Mrs. John Cummings, was widely feted by friends. Mrs. L. W. Eckford and Mrs. M. McKenzie were co-hostesses at a shower in the Eckford home on Ernest Street. Gifts were arranged in a decorated laundry basket.

The 22 guests were entertained with a recital by Master Michael Eckford.

Following the wedding rehearsal in St. Mary's Church, attendants and guests gathered at the home of the bride's parents, Mr. and Mrs. C. R. Stonehouse for a rehearsal party.

Mrs. R. A. Robinson also entertained in her Hampshire Road home where a special congratulations and best wishes cake was cut by the honor guest. There were 20 guests.

Miss Pat Fleming, who was maid of honor at the wedding was co-hostess with Mrs. N. McBride at a shower in the latter's home. There were 15 guests.

A going-away party was given for the couple by Mr. and Mrs. Chris Penning at their Henderson Road home.

Mrs. Overgaard, last year's club winner, presented a silver salver to Miss Renny for winning the club speech contest, and Mrs. Chaplin presented Mrs. McCulloch with an award for winning the International Toastmistress competition at club level.

Mrs. G. L. Barrett gave the vote of thanks and Mrs. E. Taylor the closing thought.

WHY SOME WOMEN LOOK OLD BEFORE THEIR TIME

It's dry skin that starts those early-aging signs: flaky cheeks, crow's feet, little lines. Yet it's hard to avoid dry skin, what with harsh weather, overheated rooms, low-fat diets, etc. That's why you need POND'S DRY SKIN CREAM. This famous cream now contains Allantoin—a substance that starts to repair dry skin in just 10 minutes! Allantoin gently disperses lifeless surface cells... sends Pond's rich moisturized lanolin deep into thirsty tissues. Almost overnight, lines and flakiness vanish! For a softer, smoother, younger complexion, get POND'S DRY SKIN CREAM. Discover for yourself how Pond's can re-moisturize even the driest skin. Buy it in jar or tube, wherever cosmetics are sold.

the right attachment you can adjust the flow of water from tingling to a flow as diffused and soft as a mist. Other shower heads can be moved down from high to low so that you can wash from the neck and shoulders without wetting your hair and face. Most of these shower attachments are reasonably priced and some are so inexpensive that they sell for less than a dollar.

There is one which attaches to the faucet with a hose and has a rubber shower circlet which rests on your shoulders.

Even though you prefer tubing in the winter consider the shower, several a day, in the summer.

New Home Recipe Reducing Plan

It's simple how quickly one may lose pounds of unsightly fat right in your own home. Make this home recipe yourself. It's easy, no trouble at all and costs little. Just go to your drug store and ask for four ounces of Naran Concentrate. Pour this into a pint bottle and add enough grapefruit juice to fill the bottle. Take two tablespoons full a day as needed and follow the Naran Plan. If your first purchase does not show you a simple easy way to lose bulky fat and help regain slender more graceful curves; if reducible pounds and inches of excess fat don't disappear from neck, chin, arms, abdomen, hips, calves and ankles just return the empty bottle for your money back. Follow this easy way endorsed by many who have tried this plan and help bring back alluring curves and graceful slenderness. Note how quickly bloated disappears—how much better you feel. ### Away a Month

Dr. and Mrs. D. E. Alcorn have returned to their home on Lansdowne Road. Going first to Chicago, where Dr. Alcorn attended the annual meeting of the American Psychiatric Association, the Alcorns spent two weeks touring the southern part of the United States and the remainder of the time sight-seeing by car in Mexico. They were away a month.

Return Home

Mr. and Mrs. R. Eaton have returned to their home on Inlet Avenue after a month's holiday. While away, they visited their daughter, Louise, in Ottawa; their son, Prof. R. S. Eaton and Mrs. Eaton and their children, of Edmonton, Alta., and their youngest son and daughter-in-law, Mr. and Mrs. Victor Eaton and family, of Vancouver.

From Calgary

Visiting in the city is former Victorian Mr. Larry Brown, who has been working with lined in pearls and sequins, and lily point sleeves. An elbow-length illusion veil misted from pearl and sequin trimmed coronet. She carried a bouquet of white roses and lily of the valley with ivy.

Baskets of white stocks and snapdragons and yellow lilies and carnations decorated St. Mary's Anglican Church for the ceremony, conducted by Canon H. J. Jones. Yellow lilies and white tulle marked pews. Maid of honor, Miss Pat Fleming, wore a cocktail-length gown of lilac nylon organza over taffeta. Delphiniums, white feathered carnations and lilac were in her bouquet.

Pale yellow nylon organza over taffeta dress was worn by junior bridesmaid, Miss Sheila Robinson. She carried bouquet of white stocks and yellow feathered carnations, to complement petalled headpiece of yellow tulle flowers. A similar dress was choice of the flower girl, little Miss Janet Doughty, with white lace-trimmed bonnet and flower basket filled with yellow and white sweet peas, roses and carnations.

Best man was Eric Boehm, Cobble Hill, while Chris Penning and Bob Clark ushered.

Reception was held in the War Amps Hall, where yellow and white theme was carried out in decoration of bridal table. Three-tier wedding cake was surrounded with yellow sweetheart roses. R. A. Robinson proposed the toast.

For the occasion, mother of the bride, Mrs. Claude Stonehouse, selected a gold sheath with matching accessories and white rose corsage. Mother of the groom, Mrs. J. M. Cummings, wore a blue lightweight suit with pale pink accessories and white rose corsage.

For a honeymoon in California, the new Mrs. Cummings travelled in a blue-grey jersey knit sheath ensemble with flamingo pink floral hat and gloves and corsage of pink roses and feather carnations.

The young couple plan to live in Beaverton, Ore.

AMBULANCE SERVICES

National Council of Women Plans Study Across Canada

WINDSOR, Ont. (CP) — A survey on adequate ambulance services in Canada and a request to the federal government to provide more youth campsites and hostels in national parks were urged Tuesday by the National Council of Women at their 68th annual meeting here.

Delegates agreed that information concerning the ambulance situation across the country is obscure and warrants study. The survey, to be conducted by provincial and local councils, will study fixed ambulance stations serving defined areas and whether the areas are centrally controlled and co-ordinated with police and hospitals.

They advocate emergency telephone numbers to be listed on the front page of the district telephone book, 24-hour a-day service and adequate trained and disciplined personnel.

Young people might be encouraged to "spend their vacation in healthful outdoor activity and to learn more about Canada by visiting the national parks," the 150 delegates agreed.

At the official opening Monday evening, delegates heard a tribute to their former president, Mrs. G. D. Finlayson of Ottawa, then listened to the report she had prepared before her death in April.

The report, read by acting president Mrs. C. W. Argue

Rings Exchanged at Wedding

A double-ring wedding ceremony in St. Andrew's Cathedral united Shirley Anne, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Remi Prud of Calgary, and James Wells, son of Mr. and Mrs. Morris Wells of Windsor, Ont.

Given in marriage by her uncle, Constance Prud, the bride wore a lovely short-length gown of white nylon chiffon. Fingertip veil was held by a pearl coronet, and the bridal bouquet was of red roses and white carnations. A single strand of pearls was gift of the groom.

Nuptial Mass was conducted by Fr. Bernard P. Healey, and Margaret McKay was organist.

Maid of honor was Miss Darlene Prud. She chose a blue lace sheath dress with white accessories, and carried a colonial bouquet of pink carnations and blue sweet peas. Best man was Frank Huard, PPCL.

Reception after the ceremony was given at the Dallas Road home of Mr. and Mrs. C. Prud, where a buffet luncheon was served.

After an up-island honeymoon, the newlywed couple plan to live at 422 Dallas Road.

VANCOUVER (CP)—Common interests of management and labor were emphasized at Tuesday's sessions of the annual meeting of the Canadian Manufacturers' Association.

PARLEY ENDS

Surrey Clerk Heads B.C. Civic Group

Municipal clerk R. N. Chester of Surrey was elected president of Municipal Officers' Association of B.C. at its 22nd annual conference here Tuesday.

He has been an executive member of the association for 10 years and succeeds R. W. Long of Prince Rupert.

Delegates meeting at the three-day conference named two local men to the executive board—Saanich clerk Gordon Hayward, representing Vancouver Island, and Sidney clerk A. W. Sharp, one of two village representatives.

ON EXECUTIVE

R. E. King of Port Coquitlam moves into the post of vice-president, vacated by Mr. Chester, and Mr. Long becomes an executive member as past president.

L. H. Ormiston, West Vancouver, was elected secretary-treasurer; V. R. Casorso of Oliver was named the other village representative on the executive; R. S. Freeman, Mission City, and E. E. Chace, District of Mission, represent the lower mainland, and representing the interior are J. C. Mehala, Kamloops, and E. A. Green, Armstrong.

The conference was scheduled to conclude at noon today.

Sentence Due On Thursday In Assault Case

Robert Ross McColl, 26, of 3285 Biscoe, will be sentenced Thursday for indecent assault of a 15-year-old girl on a side road near Prospect Lake the night of May 14.

He pleaded guilty to the charge in Saanich police court Tuesday and was remanded for psychiatric report before sentence.

Court was told McColl offered the girl a lift in his car at Colwood, drove into Saanich and into the side road, where he stopped and the two got out.

Police said the girl was thrown to the ground and a scarf stuffed into her mouth, then driven into Victoria by McColl. The girl had a cut mouth and neck bruise but was otherwise unharmed.

JAYCEE PROMOTION

'Tourists of Week' Given VIP Treatment

Victoria Junior Chamber, of Commerce's first "Tourists of the Week" are U.S. Air Force Colonel H. W. Odren and Mrs. Odren.

The visitors arrived from Port Angeles and were met by representatives of Victoria Jaycees tourist promotion committee.

GIVEN TOUR

They were taken—at no cost to themselves—on a conducted tour of Butchart Gardens, where they had lunch; visited the wax museum, Anne Hathaway's Cottage and were presented with souvenirs at the Piccadilly Shoppe.

They later dined and danced at the Empress Hotel, staying the night there before leaving for Port Angeles again.

Col. Odren until recently was commander of the U.S. Air Force Base at Fairbanks, Alaska, and is on his way to Scott Air Force Base, Illinois. Jaycee Tourists of the Week project will last throughout the tourist season and each week a pair of visitors will receive the same "VIP" treatment accorded Col. and Mrs. Odren.

LONG-AWAITED VISIT CANCELLED BY THEFT

VANCOUVER (CP)—For five years Kiyoko Haba sacrificed everything possible to save enough money to return to Japan to see her son. Tuesday she withdrew enough from the bank to pay her fare and put the money in her purse. A thief snatched her purse before she got home.

As at most current business gatherings, the booming recovery of Europe was compared with the static condition of the Canadian economy; and the difference was spelled out largely in terms of greater co-operation in Europe.

SEND TEAMS ABROAD

H. George De Young, chairman of the National Productivity Council and president of Atlas Steels Ltd., asked:

"How bad must our economic conditions become before we can have a co-operative effort between management and labor, as the two sides of industry, and our government and all segments of our economy? Should we not be sending teams of management and labor leaders abroad to study marketing?"

"Should not management and labor be setting up committees in their plants as is done in competing countries to study the long and short-run economic problems of the company, the industry, and our country, which affect our ability to compete?"

INTEREST IDENTICAL

Attorney-General Bonner of British Columbia said that while problems of labor and management are different, their interest is identical.

"Both seek to be kept profitably employed at fair rates of return. This implies at all times a delicate balance which, if upset, becomes ruinous to the community."

"I want to suggest that today labor relations are out of tune with national objectives and the public interest. I do not suggest that anyone is deliberately at variance. However, the public interest is insufficiently defined and in that lack of definition the tumbings or the frustrations observable in labor relations can be understood as nationally arising."

TESTING TIME

European recovery, Mr. Bonner added, "came about through the extraordinary degree to which labor relations reflected insight, understanding and sympathy with the problems of the nation as a whole. The economies of North America faced no such test. Our testing time is now."

Suggesting an answer to the Canadian problem, Mr. Bonner said:

"Our policy must be to employ our people to produce effectively and to sell competitively in the markets of the world with the aim of economic recovery for Canada. Sectional, factional or privately-held views—whether by labor or management—should be submerged in the public interest."

AUCKLAND (CP)—The New Zealand government has approached Canada seeking increased markets, Minister of Overseas Trade J. R. Marshall announced Tuesday.

Canada's exports to New Zealand increased substantially last year, he said, but there has been no increase in New Zealand's sales to Canada during the last six years.

The minister said the New Zealand government "welcomed increased trade with Canada but is disappointed that New Zealand hasn't gained proportionately from the increase in total trade."

The government move was seen here as a forerunner of a big drive for diversified markets arising from fears of the effects on New Zealand of possible British entry into the European Common Market. New Zealand relies heavily on the United Kingdom as a market for its farm products.

Perry Como Ends Season With Own Regulars in Spotlight at 9

I MUST ADMIT that I enjoyed my first-hour romp with CBC's shaggy dog, Monday night. Trouble is I tarried too long with the mutt and in the final 30 minutes the darned thing turned around and bit me.

How could I tell that I was patting the wrong end?

The shaggy dog—meaning Festival 61's "The Offbeats" by young French-Canadian dramatist Jacques Languiand—was, in the jargon of the day, real kookie. After 90 minutes it wound up with one of the characters looking at the unseen audience and asking: "Really, I don't know what to make of it all—do you?"

I did not, do not and never will.

They characters gathering at the small French bar were not only offbeats they looked like the original gathering of nuts in May, all prime ingredients for a fruit cake.

There was the clairvoyant who prophesied that one of them would die that night and a wide-eyed get "in search of an old flame who had a habit of saying 'Definitely.' Then there was the pathetic type reeling the fact that his only child was an orphan (first a boy and then a girl), an old lady in search of her son and a fat woman who wasn't sure of his wife's faithfulness which was silly because she was obviously faithful to all. Nor should the barman be neglected for he was not one man but two (one for on-duty and one for off-duty).

True, Languiand's tale had its points—enough to win the Sir Barry Jackson Trophy as the best play in the 1956 Dominion Drama Festival and to be performed in Paris and by the Birmingham Repertory Company.

For instance, I could find faint reasoning to it all, 'hat off-beats are only offbeats when they remain within their own sphere of isolation. But once they leave it and mingle with other offbeats they become a clan, linked together by circumstance and chance.

Acting by the principals, such as Eric House as the barman; James Doohan as Jules; Drew Thompson as Pitt; Charles Palmer as Ernest was first rate even though, perhaps, they all had to take second place to Catherine Proctor as the old lady. She was superb.

If only someone had trimmed that shaggy dog. Even a little!

MAN TO MOON IN '71 BY NUCLEAR ROCKET

WASHINGTON (UPI)—The United States will be able to send a man to the moon and beyond on a nuclear-powered rocket by 1971, chairman, Glenn Seaborg of the Atomic Energy Commission said today.

Seaborg told the Senate space committee that tests in the nuclear rocket engine program so far have been an "unqualified success."

He said a crude test model of the engine, known as Project Rover, should be completed in three or four years and that a nuclear rocket should be test-flown by 1966-7.

BOOKIE 'SUSPENDED' SIX YEARS

NORTHAMPTON, Eng. (AP)—A boy of 12 has been ordered by juvenile court to abandon his career as a bookie—for at least six years.

The boy, son of a bookmaker, was found by police taking bets on horses at a betting shop. Betting shops recently became legal in Britain, but the law forbids anybody to frequent them until the age of 18.

In accordance with juvenile court practice, the bookie's name was kept secret.

'First Phase' Of Talks End

EVIAN, France (Reuters)—The "first phase" of talks between France and insurgents ended today, a French spokesman said.

In the "second phase" beginning Thursday, both sides will draw up a list of points on which they have common ground before deciding how to tackle them, the spokesman said after today's two-hour meeting.

Castro Demands Talks In Havana Over Swap

DETROIT (UPI)—The U.S. "Tractors for Cuba" committee agreed today to consider Fidel Castro's demand that the fund-raisers go to Havana to negotiate the deal.

Premier Castro's demand was aired just 13 hours before today's mid-day deadline set by the U.S. committee for an "official reply" to its original acceptance of the trade which Castro proposed May 17.

A spokesman for the committee in Detroit said, "Premier Castro's statement is considered to be an official response. We consider the deadline has been met."

A spokesman for Walter Reuther, Eleanor Roosevelt and Dr. Milton Eisenhower, the leading fund-raisers, said the committee was studying Castro's demand, would confer by telephone and hoped to give an answer by tonight.

Castro added the new condition to his tractors-for-captives proposal Tuesday night. He asked that Mrs. Roosevelt and other fund-raisers go to Havana to complete the negotiations—a new way of exacting U.S. recognition for his regime.

WIRE BRIEFS

Canada Boosts Aid
WASHINGTON (CP)—Canada has agreed to increase economic aid to Pakistan with the provision of $6,500,000 in long-term export credits in addition to annual Colombo plan commitments to that country, it was announced today.

UN, Katanga Pact
LEOPOLDVILLE, The Congo (UPI)—United Nations officers will take command of the 7,000-man Katanga army, as a result of the first agreement reached between the UN and any Congo state, it was announced today.

Ship Missing
TAPEL, Formosa (UPI)—A 500-ton Nationalist Chinese cargo ship with 32 crew members aboard has been missing since it left Kaohsiung for Hong Kong Sunday, according to reports today from that southern Formosa city.

Prairies Need Rain
OTTAWA (CP)—Ample rains are needed on the Prairies to maintain crop growth and replenish low moisture reserves, says the Dominion Bureau of Statistics.

Jackie in Greece
ATHENS (UPI)—Mrs. Jacqueline Kennedy arrived in Greece today for eight days of rest and quiet cruises among the islands of the Aegean Sea.

Nikita 'Tough' On German Pact
BERLIN (UPI)—Soviet Premier Khrushchev gave President Kennedy two memoranda in Vienna threatening to give East Germany a separate peace treaty and control of the routes to Berlin, informed sources said today.

Green Returns To Geneva Parley
OTTAWA (CP)—External Affairs Minister Green left Tuesday night by air for Geneva to rejoin the Canadian delegation at the conference on Laos. He returned to Ottawa May 20 after taking part in the opening phase of the conference.

Will Go Ahead
The government's trade commissioners were shopping around the United Kingdom and Europe for an alternative supply but it was felt also that an Ontario plant could turn out models which would be flown to Red China.

General Jailed
PARIS (Reuters)—Ex-Gen. Pierre-Marie Bigot was sentenced Tuesday to 15 years at hard labor by a special military court for his part in the abortive Algerian military revolt in April.

PRAYER FOR TODAY
When the kings of earth set themselves against Thee, keep Thy people from interperate anger and grant us the will to be faithful in prayer. Grant to all who love Thee, O Lord, the spirit of humility wherein we shall faithfully repent of our sins even as we pray earnestly that others may see and feel their need of Thee. Earnestly we pray in the Master's name. Amen.

RUB-A-DUB-DUB IN CHANNEL CHUG

DOVER, Eng. (Reuters)—Two men in a bathtub and another on water-skis set out to cross the English Channel today but the skier gave up after encountering high tides.

Lex Wozniak failed in this third attempt to cross the channel wearing 12-foot water skis, pushing himself along with ski poles.

Wozniak said he covered about six miles in two hours, but got tired fighting high tides.

Meanwhile, Brighton college students Alan Witt, 21, and 19-year-old John Row hoped to reach France in their bathtub, propelled by an outboard motor.

JFK 'Sombre' In Report On Summit

By HAROLD MORRISON

WASHINGTON (CP)—President Kennedy, in a sombre report on Vienna summitry, says Soviet Premier Khrushchev dealt a "serious blow" to Western hopes for an effective treaty to ban atomic explosions and reduce the world's arms race.

While Khrushchev wouldn't budge an inch from his demands for a veto over inspection controls against possible cheating, Kennedy said the West would continue its patient struggle for a treaty in the belief that the atomic stakes are too important to abandon negotiations at this stage.

On the brighter side, Kennedy found his two-day talks with the Soviet leader in Vienna brightened hopes of obtaining progress in seeking a peaceful solution to the Laotian problem through the 14-country Geneva conference. The parley has been deadlocked over Soviet refusal to grant cease-fire inspectors freedom to check violators.

Kennedy said neither he nor Khrushchev scored a victory over the other at Vienna but the chances of a world war by miscalculation should be less now that each leader knows better where the other stands.

REPORTS TO PEOPLE
Kennedy reported this to the country Tuesday night in a 23-minute radio-TV speech in which he talked "candidly and honestly."

Green Returns To Geneva Parley
OTTAWA (CP)—External Affairs Minister Green left Tuesday night by air for Geneva to rejoin the Canadian delegation at the conference on Laos. He returned to Ottawa May 20 after taking part in the opening phase of the conference.

Will Go Ahead
The government's trade commissioners were shopping around the United Kingdom and Europe for an alternative supply but it was felt also that an Ontario plant could turn out models which would be flown to Red China.

General Jailed
PARIS (Reuters)—Ex-Gen. Pierre-Marie Bigot was sentenced Tuesday to 15 years at hard labor by a special military court for his part in the abortive Algerian military revolt in April.

Goods for Cuba Held Under Pact With U.S.?
OTTAWA (CP)—Trade Minister Hees said today he will check a report that 165 tons of spare parts and base materials were seized from a Cuban freighter in Montreal last week on grounds it was transshipped from the United States.

EVIL EYE AND WHAMMY AS GOOD AS THE COUCH
MONTREAL (CP)—Dr. I. A. Senanayake of Ceylon said Tuesday he doesn't believe in witchdoctors or the evil-eye, but they seem to work in some cases of mental illnesses.

OL' WK SAYS:
Still, waters run deep, in th' Creston area.

PRAYER FOR TODAY
When the kings of earth set themselves against Thee, keep Thy people from interperate anger and grant us the will to be faithful in prayer. Grant to all who love Thee, O Lord, the spirit of humility wherein we shall faithfully repent of our sins even as we pray earnestly that others may see and feel their need of Thee. Earnestly we pray in the Master's name. Amen.

Ontario Firm Can Make Pump

OTTAWA (CP)—Canada is determined to maintain the pace of grain exports to Red China and may make and fly its own unloading equipment to that country to replace machinery which is under a United States export ban, Prime Minister Diefenbaker told the Commons today.

He said the U.S. is fully entitled to apply its ban to American companies within its borders but that Canada is determined nothing will halt east coast shipments of grain to China.

His statement referred to a portable suction unloader needed by big tankers in Red China ports—a machine made only in the U.S. and denied to tankers which are under Red China charter for handling Canadian grain.

The prime minister said the situation does not affect grain shipments to China from west-coast ports but did not specify why. It was understood, however, that few tankers are involved in the west-coast shipments.

NO HALT IN SHIPMENTS
Mr. Diefenbaker said he has been assured that an Ontario firm can build the unloaders and have them ready within three weeks. If so, they would be flown to Red China to avoid any halt in shipments.

Outside the House, it was learned that the Ontario firm in question is Pneumovox Systems, Limited, of Woodstock, Ont., a Canadian-owned company which manufactures such equipment.

He said reports of the incident have been blown out of proportion.

The loss of the U.S. equipment affected only tankers—which involves only a few of the many vessels under charter by Red China. The tankers were banned from using the U.S. machinery under a U.S. law which forbids trade with that country.

300-TON CAPACITY
Mr. Diefenbaker said that the Canadian machine will have a daily capacity of 300 tons—only half that of the U.S. model. Talks were being held today with the Canadian Shipping Federation to work out new timetables.

Montreal Leads the Nation In Novelties for Tourists

(Times writer Norman Cribbens has just returned from a vacation tour of Quebec. Here he tells of tourist attractions in the historic metropolis of Montreal.)

Montreal is far ahead of most Canadian cities in its novelties for tourists.

Here, for instance, is the Garden of Wonders—a walled children's zoo that draws thousands of families to La Fontaine Park, between spring and fall every year. The entrance is in the style of a typical Canadian house, and Mr. Owl, who lives just inside the entrance, is the first to greet visitors.

AQUARIUM

Next comes the House of the Grey Hen from the popular children's song, and then Jonah's Whale, his gaping mouth filled with an aquarium of gaily-colored fish.

Now we are to board Noah's Ark with an interesting cargo of small animal and a stuffed giraffe with its long neck sticking out of the red-tiled roof.

Then—the wafer mill with its music box grinding out the tune of "Marianne s'en va-t-au noulin" while Marianne's donkeys graze near by.

Cinderella in her golden

pumpkin coach drawn by four pink mice stands in The Enchanted Village, which also contains the House of Tom Thumb.

Then there is the sugar candy house which lured Hansel and Gretel into the hands of the wicked witch, and the windmill (with its miller asleep) performing to the tune of "Meunier tu dors".

THREE BEARS

Goldilocks is not in sight, but her beloved Mr. Bears play around their cosy log-bull house, while next door three handsome penguins live in a summertime igloo.

Bambi the deer has a place of honor in a gentle woodland glade right next to a glassy enclosure containing a giant tortoise carrying a young visitor on its back.

This Garden of Wonders is a treat for young and old and a source of some considerable revenue to the city council.

CHIEF POKING FIRE

At Catanawaga, a few miles outside the city, burly Chief Poking Fire of the Iroquois tribe presides over a model Indian village and puts on a display of native dances every afternoon at 4.

The chief, aged 71, is a showman in the style of Buffalo Bill. He receives visitors at any hour of the day in full costume complete with feathered headdress and buckskin suit and regales them with lively stories and legends about his people.

CURE-ALL

Between times, he sells his own herbal teas (for almost every imaginable ailment) at $1.50 a package.

The money from these enterprises goes to the upkeep of the local Indian hospital and other charities.

"My tribe is big," said the chief in his deep, rumbling voice. "We number at least 3,500 and I need money to help care for them. Just now is difficult time. So many out of work."

"I'M RESPONSIBLE"

An eloquent talker with a French-Indian accent, the chief has been to Ottawa several times to press the government to compensate his tribe for loss of lands along the new St. Lawrence Seaway.

"I shall go there again," he said. "As long as I live I am responsible for my people." When the chief dies, the leadership will pass to his eldest grandson, not to his son. By tradition the title skips each generation.

$1.50 MONTHLY

Another tourist novelty is the Pets' Cemetery, south of Montreal. Here in a plot no more than 100 yards long are the graves of some 400 animals, mostly dogs and cats, maintained at a fee of $1.50 a month by their fond owners.

"Why don't they bury them in their back gardens?" I asked a civic official.

"Many of our older people have no gardens," he replied. "And they like to have them remembered in this fashion, with a small headstone and a suitable inscription."

Blow for Germans!

BONN (AP)—German beer drinkers, who for centuries have proudly regarded themselves as the world's greatest, got a shock today. The country's brewers announced the Belgians and Luxembourgers down an average of five gallons more than the 25 gallons a year the German averages.

FAST STRAW—Lapping up his lunch is not to the liking of this London cat, "Tiddles." He prefers the neat, modern way—a straw.

'New Sound' And Eleanor For Weekend

Always popular Eleanor Collins will sing Friday and Saturday nights with the "new sound" at Club Tango.

The lovely Vancouver singer will star in two appearances each evening, backed by the Buddy Glover quartet.

Clubman Ed Hicks said pianist Glover, reed player Pete Thompson, bassist Fred Wyatt and drummer George Porter are responsible for the new sound.

Officers Censured By Probe

OTTAWA (CP)—The Petawawa Yacht Club investigation has ended with a knuckle-rapping for certain officers and a money-back guarantee for unwilling soldier yachtsmen.

The inquiry was ordered in March after two members of the 2nd Battalion, Canadian Guards, said their commander was forcing 800 guardsmen to join the two-sailboat club.

Defence Minister Harkness said Tuesday commanding officer Col. A. D. Egan did not personally order his men to join the sailing club, but one of his immediate subordinates did and will be disciplined.

All ranks have been offered a reimbursement of the yachting fees they paid.

"Mein Kampf" is for the record—one to look back on as a reminder that such chaos of horror must never be allowed to happen again so long as man has a say in his own affairs.

One tip of our ordered world into the abyss of war and man is back in his jungles as though he never left them.

What makes "Mein Kampf" so unutterably horrible and at the same time so fascinating is that the story, written and edited by Swedish Jew Erwin Leiser, cannot be ascribed to Allied or Jewish propaganda. The documentary is made up of German film taken by Hitler's minions as a record of their own evilness.

Whatever one thought before, after seeing "Mein Kampf" one knows for sure that the trial of Adolf Eichmann in Israel is more than justified. It is a nation's duty to see that the least of these fiends be brought to the bar of justice, if only to have his crimes against humanity formally catalogued.

Some of the scenes: A still picture of Hitler as a child in rompers; films of children, their parents and friends in the Warsaw ghetto slowly dying on their less than 200 calories a day; cadavers being thrown down a slide into a lime pit; seemingly acres and acres of death houses; mounds and mounds of human teeth, hair and spectacles; a small boy, perhaps near death, dancing a jig in an effort to gain a penny for food.

But, perhaps worst of all, is the sleek viciousness of Hitler himself, ominously advancing in power through gangsterism and intrigue to be chief of the new German state of death.

Nor should one forget the incredible sight of hundreds and thousands of German faces looking up at this paper-hanger-turned-butcher with an adulation and light in their eyes that one associates with disciples glimpsing the Messiah.

(OSCAR CLASS) "MEIN KAMPF" (Capitol)—Only the emotionally ill could look at this two-hour documentary concerned with the rise and fall of Adolf Hitler and the Third Reich. "Mein Kampf," and derive pleasure from it. It is ghastly.

Nonetheless, all who are old enough should see this brilliantly assembled celluloid story of a by-product of war, if only to realize how precariously close to the brink of primordial ooze we live in spite of our antiseptic life, our cultures won over millions of years and our jaunty junkets into outer space.

BUSINESS VIEWS

Incompetence Ends Many Firms

Times Business Editor

Dun and Bradstreet's annual review of business failures in the U.S. has just been published and the figures themselves tell the story. In 1960, the highest number of failures in more than 25 years while the number of failures hit an all-time high of $938,630,000, surpassing by $10 million the previous record set in 1932.

Average liability per failure, moreover, was more than $16,000 above the average for all the postwar years.

One of B.C.'s near-neighbors, Oregon, led the failure rate category with 207.1 failures per 1,000 concerns. New York was second with 124.8 and California a close third with 123.9.

Dun and Bradstreet gets down to cases when it examines the principal reasons for failures compiled from opinions of informed creditors.

In the vast majority of cases in all categories of business the chief reason given for failure is simply incompetence.

Incompetence followed by lack of managerial experience, unbalanced experience and lack of experience in the particular line of business was evidenced by—in order—adequate sales, competitive weakness, difficulties with receivables, heavy operating expenses, excessive fixed assets and inventory difficulties.

Plain simple incompetence in running a business accounted for 41.8 per cent of all business failures while factors such as neglect (3.8 per cent), fraud (1.7 per cent), disaster (1.1 per cent) and other causes made up the balance.

Incidentally, although fraud played a minor part in the total business failures, the chief type of fraud noted in all categories was irregular disposal of assets.

The report shows, first of all, that business failures last year reached 15,445, the highest figure in more than 25 years while the number of failures hit an all-time high of $938,630,000, surpassing by $10 million the previous record set in 1932.

Average liability per failure, moreover, was more than $16,000 above the average for all the postwar years.

Incidentally, although fraud played a minor part in the total business failures, the very easily have a sharp upswing in price on favorable budget news.

Most investment men believe that the B.C. Toll Authority parity bonds which Premier Bennett has announced for the first week in August will carry interest of 5 per cent.

There is beginning to grow a suspicion that the market for parity bonds may be a little thinner than the last time out. The more sophisticated investors, of course, are not too interested and there is a general public can be expected to absorb issues of this type.

Certainly very few investment houses report any post-issue interest in the Toll Authorities and chances are slim that there will be anything like the stampede that developed with the Power Commission and PGE issues.

There's no doubt the bond market is waiting anxiously for Mr. Fleming's budget. Delays in producing the government's fiscal plans have caused considerable slowdown in the market in the past two weeks and even the lowering of the chartered banks' prime rate from 5 1/2 to 5 per cent, which would ordinarily stimulate the market considerably, appears to have had little effect.

However, the James Richardson & Sons weekly bond market summary advises that the market as a whole maintains a firm undertone and could

MONTE ROBERTS

Never underestimate the power of the Vote No forces. Long a strong factor in this, the fairest city of them all, the Vote No forces have now spread to the mainland, and are making a plucky stand in, of all places, the progressive, bustling, hustling metropolis which has almost (but not quite) outlived the name Gastown.

Yes, the Vote No forces have reared up in Vancouver, and what they are voting No about is the British Columbia flag which was found, after great research, by Premier Bennett in London, England.

In cunning fashion, the Vote No forces first infiltrated the Greater Vancouver School Board, and through it have issued what amounts to a cease and desist order with regard to flying the new flag (which is actually an old flag) over school property.

The Vote No forces take a dim view of this B.C. flag, undoubtedly through the use of very dark sunglasses, this being the only way the flag can be viewed dimly.

I am surprised to find opposition to this flag, because there is much to recommend it.

For one thing, the premier had to go all the way to England to find it.

I am heartily in favor of the premier going all the way to England.

This is good for promoting a better understanding within the Commonwealth, even though he DID come back. For another thing, the flag is just the ticket for flying over the Legislature when the Legislature is in session.

This keeps people's minds off what is going on down below.

It is ideally suited as a conversation piece.

Hang one over the fireplace in your rumpus room, and your guests will never lack for conversation, or even rumpus.

But what I like best about the B.C. flag is its obvious value at sea.

Fly the B.C. flag upside down, and there can be no mistake that the vessel flying it is in distress.

When the B.C. flag is upside down, by golly, there's no fooling about it.

Whoever saw a poached egg sizzling down instead of up?

So I do hope the Vote No forces, which have deployed themselves on the mainland, will stay there, and let this, the Fairest City of them All, enjoy this admirable atrophy to the fullest.

Two Ready To Contest Byelection

They are R. W. Chard and G. Stanley Eden.

Mr. Chard, 40, who has been practising law here for the past 11 years, said he is seeking election because he wants to make sure there is no "tin-horn" housing development in the vicinity of the new Gordon Head Victoria College Campus.

INDUSTRY STUDY

He also favors a serious study of areas for light industrial use.

A graduate of the University of Alberta, Mr. Chard ran in the December elections and was defeated by only 34 votes. He lives at 3774 Hobbs.

Mr. Eden is a former councillor, having served on council intermittently between 1928 and 1956. He is a member of the Saanich police commission.

NAVAL SHIP MOVEMENTS

Fraser returns 8 a.m. June 16.

St. Laurent returns 8.30 a.m. Thursday.

Fortune, Cowichan, James Bay, Miramichi return 11.30 a.m. June 13.

THREE SCHOOLS TOAST WINNERS

Cheer Section Sounds Off For Strike-It-Rich Youth

An ovation which seemed to go on and on was given Murray E. McClung, 15, by his fellow students at Lansdowne Junior High School today when Times publisher Stuart Keate presented him with a $500 scholarship.

He qualified for the scholarship when the sponsors of the "Ask Andy" column, which appears daily in the Times, selected a question of his for answering in the column Nov. 14.

ONLY CANADIAN

His prize at that time was a 20-volume set of the World Book Encyclopedia, plus the right to be a possible winner of one of five $500 scholarships. All 1960 encyclopedia winners in North America were eligible, and he was the only Canadian chosen.

CHEERS

The applause was general when Mr. Keate gave Murray a plaque commemorating his award, but the cheers broke out when he gave the 15-year-old student the $500 cheque.

"It's a United States cheque, so I'd like to make up the two per cent you would lose through the exchange difference," Mr. Keate said, giving him an additional $10 in cash.

BOOK PRIZES

Murray was not the only prizewinner of the day. Barbara Hutchison, 14, was acclaimed at the Lansdowne assembly as one of two Victoria winners of book prizes in an essay contest sponsored by the Royal Commonwealth Society.

Not far away, at Oak Bay Senior High School, Cheryl Borris, 15, a Grade 10 student, was announced as the other Victoria area essay winner.

'RARE PROBLEM'

Mailbox Raider Hunted

Police and postal investigators are seeking a mailbox thief who broke open four boxes and damaged at least 46 pieces of mail overnight Monday.

The mailboxes were located within a three-quarter mile area of north Victoria and just inside the Saanich boundary.

Postmaster A. M. Davies said it could not be determined whether any mail is missing. "It is a rare problem in any area," Mr. Davies said. "People generally respect mail receptacles."

The damaged mail was ripped open and scattered, some of it left near a mailbox at Quadra and Finlayson, where it was found by newspaper boys Garry Quilty, 3225 Harriet, and Garry Knight, 510 Kelvin, at 6.30 a.m. Tuesday. City and Saanich police were notified and broken mailboxes were found at Cloverdale and Bethune, Douglas and Larch, and Quadra and Summit.

REPAIRED

A total of 43 pieces were repaired and remailed with explanatory notes from the post office. One item, recognizable only as a cheque believed drawn on the Bank of Montreal, is held by the department pending identification.

Anyone who mailed a cheque in the area after collection time Monday is asked to contact the postmaster.

$60,000 Loss In Water Blamed On Wet Spring

Greater Victoria Water Board has suffered the worst sales start this year in its 12-year history.

A $60,000 deficit has been piled up already as a result of the wet spring—which drained off considerable demand for water—commissioner Ronald Upward told the board today.

Normal summer pickup should cut this deficit but the long-range weather outlook does not show promise of record heat waves that would be needed to make a complete recovery.

Mr. Upward guessed that the board will wind up the year with a $25,000 deficit, compared with last year's $25,000 surplus.

School, whose mural submitted in the annual school arts competition for the Canadian National Exhibition was the winner for B.C. Almost 17 years of age and in Grade 11, he lives at 3019 Carroll Street.

Lansdowne finished its hour-long assembly this morning with finals in a spelling bee, conducted by Donald G. Macdonald, principal.

HOUSE THREE WINS

Twelve students, representing all three grades in the four houses, wrote 20 words in the test, and House Three was winner on points.

Top individual was Doris Miller, who managed such words as "ubiquitous," "obscure," and "harassment," but was defeated by "impugn" and "incendiary." Her closest competitor in the bee had 15 words correct.

SHE COULD

"Can you spell Tsawwassen?" Mr. Keate asked as he was about to present her with the school's perpetual challenge cup.

She did, and she got the cup.

Pearkes to 'Call In' On Indian Villages

Governor To Be Guest Of Navy

Lieutenant-Governor George Pearkes will visit Indian villages and communities on the west coast of Vancouver Island and adjacent areas on the mainland during the week of June 19 to 24.

Government House officials believe this is the first time a B.C. lieutenant-governor has made such a tour.

The Governor will travel in the Pacific Command destroyer escort HMCS Assiniboine, senior ship of the Second Canadian escort squadron, commanded by Capt. John Charles.

She will be escorted by sister ships Skeena and Margaree.

SUMMER TRAINING

All three destroyers will have Regular Officer Training Plan cadets—midshipmen embarked for a summer training cruise in North Pacific areas.

The ROTP cadets, all in their third year, are from Royal Military College and various universities across Canada.

The ships leave Esquimalt at 8.30 a.m. June 19.

CARRY ON

His honor will return by air from Alert Bay, while the destroyers carry on with the training cruise.

The three ships will visit Kitimat June 26 to 28, and for the period July 1 to 5 will visit separate Alaskan ports where ships' companies will observe the American Independence Day.

Assiniboine will be at Juneau, Margaree at Ketchikan, and Skeena at Skagway.

The three will re-join to reach Kodiak July 7, leaving July 10 to return to Esquimalt on the morning of July 13.

TRAFFIC FINES

In Sooke RCMP court Tuesday:

Vera McPhie, Anderson Road, $25 and $5 costs for failing to keep to the right.

ASK THE TIMES

Q. What can you tell me about the origin of the game of chess—N.N.

A. The origin of the game is lost in antiquity, but it is one of the most cosmopolitan of all games, being played on every continent. In the form in which it is played in the west, it is derived from the Arabic game, and many of the terms used (such as checkmate) are Arabic. Chess is generally believed to have originated either in India or Persia, but this is difficult to establish. It came into Europe either through the Arab conquerors of Spain or through Italian traders to the Byzantine world, which would mean that it was known in Europe by about the eleventh or twelfth century.

Anyone wishing a question answered in the Times, addressed to "Ask the Times" Editor, Questions and Answers will be published daily. All questions should deal with matters of fact and be of general interest. The Times does not undertake to solve conundrums or legal problems. Nor will it attempt to put a value on old coins, stamps or antiques. These should be submitted to a dealer.

TOPICS OF THE DAY

A meeting of the Victoria Chamber of Commerce transportation and harbor group called for Friday noon has been postponed until Monday noon in the Colonial Inn.

A Victoria student has graduated from the School of Theology at Boston University. He is Robert James Moore, of 3249 Quadra Street, who received his Bachelor of Science in Theology at the university commencement exercises which took place in Boston last Sunday.

Lester B. Pearson leader of the opposition in the House of Commons addressed the Commencement, at which 2,227 students graduated.

Kirpal Singh Basi, 20, of 531 East Burnside, was fined $20 when he pleaded guilty in city police court today to being a minor in possession of three bottles of beer in a parked car on Topaz.

800 Brownies To 'Pow Wow' At Beacon Hill

Approximately 800 Brownies are expected to attend a giant pow-wow and sing-song at Beacon Hill Park Saturday.

The Greater Victoria area Brownie Revel will start at 1.30 p.m. at the Mayors' Grove. Mrs. W. S. Hamilton, division commissioner, is in charge of the program.

The Brownies will be divided into "sixes" and will sing altogether the fixer song, repeat the "promise and law," and gather around a toaststool where Mrs. W. S. Emmerton, area commissioner, will speak to them.

Games will be played and refreshments served.

Farmer Construction Ltd. has been awarded a $98,150 contract for lining about 1,000 feet of the Japan Gulch tunnel of Greater Victoria Water Board with concrete to prevent erosion near the tunnel entrances.

The tunnel, being built in stages, eventually will total five miles to provide a direct link between the Sooke Lake and Goldstream watersheds.

Attorney-General Robert Bonner and Recreation Minister Earle Westwood left here Tuesday night for San Francisco, where they will lease premises for British Columbia's new trade and tourist office on Market Street.

They are expected to return here next Saturday.

Mr. Bonner will attend a conference of B.C. magistrates in Penticton from Aug. 13 to 15.

Lt-Colonel M. G. Humphreys and Major D. de Waller, two British Army officers on exchange duty at Army Headquarters, Ottawa, will pay a two-day visit to Victoria beginning Thursday.

Both officers are members of the Royal Army Ordnance Corps and are on a tour of Canadian Army military establishments.

While in Victoria, they will visit the Esquimalt Garrison at Work Point barracks.

Clifford Neils Olsen, 20, of Sooke, was remanded to next week for probation report and sentence when he pleaded guilty in Sooke RCMP court Tuesday to stealing a pickup truck Sunday.

Police said he took a truck, property of Gerald Van Humpbeek, of Sooke, drove it to Victoria and Saanich, then back to Sooke before he was arrested.

Films will be shown by Wilson Duff, museum anthropologist, at the monthly meeting of the B.C. Indian Arts and Welfare Society at the Victoria Public Library Thursday at 8 p.m.

John Kingham Lasave, 2632 Fernwood, was fined $200 and $6.50 costs when he was charged in Colwood RCMP court Monday with impaired driving.

His driver's licence was suspended for six months.

Police said Lasave's car was driven erratically, passing other traffic on the right.

At a meeting of the Victoria chapter of the Chartered Institute of Secretaries held on Monday in board room of Island Tug and Barge Co. Ltd., the following slate of officers was elected for the year: Chairman, Oliver M. Pringle, FCIS; vice-chairman, W. J. Lyle, FCIS; secretary, treasurer, T. L. Christie, FCIS.

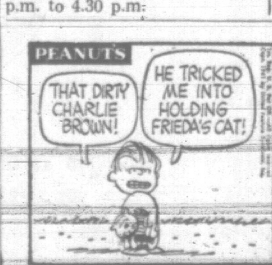

Red Cross officials expressed satisfaction Tuesday after 235 donors answered an urgent appeal for blood.

"If we can just keep going like this we will be well away," a spokesman said.

The clinic will again be open this evening from 7 to 9.30 and will be at the Legislative Buildings Thursday from 9 a.m. to noon and from 1.30 p.m. to 4.30 p.m.

Normal summer pickup should cut this deficit but the long-range weather outlook does not show promise of record heat waves that would be needed to make a complete recovery.

Mr. Upward guessed that the board will wind up the year with a $25,000 deficit, compared with last year's $25,000 surplus.

B.C. Town 'Invaded' by Caterpillars

WARFIELD, B.C. (CP)—Residents of this West Kootenay centre expressed concern today as an "invasion" of millions of caterpillars moved near the outskirts of town.R. O. Wood of Vernon, speaking for the Forest Service, said the infested area stretched for three miles along a hillside. "In the process of looking for food they will go anywhere, including houses," Wood said.

Arab Communist Leader 'Murdered'

LONDON (Reuters)—Russia charged today that Lebanese Communist leader Farajalla El Hilou was tortured to death in a United Arab Republic jail.

German Panzers to Train in Wales?

LONDON (AP)—John Profumo, British war minister, said today discussions are under way for the training of a West German panzer battalion at Castlemartin, Wales.
"The present demand for training areas," he told the House of Commons, "is so great that it would otherwise be impossible for the Germans to fulfil their NATO commitments."JFK 'Sombre'

On Summit

By HAROLD MORRISON

WASHINGTON (CP)—President Kennedy, in a sombre report on Vienna summitry, says Soviet Premier Khrushchev dealt a "serious blow" to Western hopes for an effective treaty to ban atomic explosions and reduce the world's arms race.K 'Tough' On German IssueBERLIN (UPI)—Soviet Premier Khrushchev gave President Kennedy two memoranda in Vienna threatening to give East Germany a separate peace treaty and control of the routes to Berlin, informed sources said today.The sources said the memoranda indicated Kennedy failed to talk Khrushchev out of his tough stand on Berlin.The Soviet memoranda said the granting of a peace treaty to East Germany would not be long delayed if the Western allies continued to refuse to sign a treaty with both German states, the sources said.

SIGN THIS YEAR

The West Berlin newspaper Tagesspiegel, in a dispatch from the West German capital of Bonn said the memoranda warned the peace treaty would be signed this year.The newspaper said the West German government was told Khrushchev informed Kennedy any western attempt to block the Soviet plan would mean "military developments."
Kennedy in turn told Khrushchev interference with the vital traffic to isolated Berlin would bring Western military action, the newspaper said.The newspaper said the Soviet memoranda promised there would be no interference with the Western allies in Berlin itself even though East Germany would get control of routes to the city.The newspaper reported the memoranda said once a peace treaty is signed the Western allies would have to negotiate with the East German government on use of the traffic links between the West and Berlin.U.S. MAY RECONSIDER

'First Phase' Of Talks EndEVIAN, France (Reuters)—
The "first phase" of talks between France and insurgents to end the 6½-year Algerian war ended today, a French spokesman said.In the "second phase" beginning Thursday, both sides will draw up a list of points on which they have common ground before deciding how to tackle them, the spokesman said after today's two-hour meeting.29 Charges Of TheftOTTAWA (CP)—An RCMP spokesman said today 29 charges of theft are to be laid against an RCN petty officer on the Ottawa naval headquarters staff.The charges arise from a $1,200 shortage in naval Com-

Ship Missing

TAPEI, Formosa (UPI)—
A 500-ton Nationalist Chinese cargo ship with 32 crew members aboard has been missing since it left Kaohsiung for Hong Kong Sunday, according to reports today from that southern Formosa city.

Prairies Need Rain

OTTAWA (CP)—Ample rains are needed on the Prairies to maintain crop growth and replenish low moisture reserves, says the Dominion Bureau of Statistics.

RIVERS STILL RISING

Cloudburst Hampers
Tired FloodfightersCanadian and U.S. farmers alongside the rampaging Kootenay River today face millions of dollars flood damage as water levels threaten to top or burst miles of diking.Two dikes near Bonners Ferry, Idaho, burst overnight flooding a total of 4,000 newly-seeded acres but giving temporary relief to the whole system of dikes on both sides of the border.Floodfighters at Creston, B.C., and Bonners Ferry said the saturated dikes are likely to collapse at numerous points unless waters subside.But B.C. water controller A. F. Paget in Victoria this morning said depth readings indicate both the Kootenayand Columbia Rivers will continue to rise at least through Thursday.The outlook today is for rising stages on both rivers tomorrow," he said. "The Arrow Lakes will be approximately as high as they were in 1948 (when B.C. suffered its worst floods in this century), but I don't think Trail will be that close to the record."Cooler weather in the region may bring relief as it slows down the rapid melting of snow—cause of the floods on both rivers.

Heavy Equipment Can't Be Used

Cloudbursts hit floodfighters a second blow this morning, prohibiting use of heavy equipment on the miles of soft muddy dikes.Hundreds of military personnel and civilians on the U.S. side of the Kootenay River had to dump sandbags at the worst spots along some 45 miles of dikes by hand when the water level dropped a foot because of two breakages.But rising water soon began lapping at the tops of the dikes, with wind spray being blown over the peaks.Eighty Canadians, including 37 soldiers rushed from Calgary, crossed the border to help the U.S. floodfighters because collapse of more American dikes will threaten farmland downstream in Canada.More than $500,000 already has been spent on battling the swollen Kootenay near Bonners Ferry, one U.S. official estimated.At Creston, almost 200 troops aided farmers in a similar struggle to bolster 51 miles of dikes with sandbags as water pressures increased against them.Many of the men worked around the clock, with few chances for eating as the battle continued to save 50,000 acres from the waters.The Kootenay Lake level rose to an all-time record of 61.69 feet this morning, Mr.
Paget reported. The Creston lock opening was 24.66 at most the same as Tuesday, due to the drop resulting from burst dikes on the U.S. sides.Meanwhile water levels continue to rise on the Columbia River.At Trail, where some homes have been evacuated, wire cables have been used to anchor a few threatened buildings, newsboys delivered papers through flooded streets in swimming suits and tem-John D. Says
Will Go Ahead
With ShipmentsWASHINGTON (CP)—The State Department said today the United States decision to ban the sale of special grain handling equipment to tankers hauling Canadian wheat to Red China is under review.The announcement was made after Canadian Ambassador Arnold Heeney had made representations to the department asking that the ban be lifted.Press officer Lincoln White told reporters that the review will deal with the question of whether the decision should be reversed.He read a long statement to reporters, making the point that the American ban was not aimed at Canada and did not involve any subsidiaries of American companies operating in Canada.Earlier it was learned that the Norwegian ambassador—whose country has ships under charter to carry the Canadian grain to Red China—also made representations.OTTAWA (CP)—Canada is determined to maintain the pace of grain exports to Red China and may make and fly its own unloading equipment to that country to replace machinery which is under a United States export ban, Prime Minister Diefenbaker told the Commons today.He said the U.S. is fully entitled to apply its ban to American companies within its borders but that Canada is determined nothing will halt east coast shipments of grain to China.His statement referred to a portable suction unloader needed by big tankers in Red China ports—a machine made only in the U.S. and denied to tankers which are under Red China charter for handling Canadian grain.The prime minister said the situation does not affect grain shipments to China from westcoast ports but did not specify why. It was understood, however, that few tankers are involved in the west-coast shipments.NO HALT IN SHIPMENTS Mr. Diefenbaker said he has been assured that an Ontario firm can build the unloaders and have them ready within three weeks. If so, they would be flown to Red China to avoid any halt in shipments.Outside the House, it was learned that the Ontario firm in question is Pneumeyer Systems, Limited, of Woodstock, Ont., a Canadian-owned company which manufactures such equipment.He said reports of the incident have been blown out of proportion.The loss of the U.S. equipment affected only tankers—which involves only a few of the many vessels under charter by Red China. The tankers were banned from using the U.S. machinery under a U.S. law which forbids trade with that country.The U.S. machine cost about

300-TON CAPACITY

Mr. Diefenbaker said that the Canadian machine will have a daily capacity of 300 tons—only half that of the U.S. model.
Talks were being held today with the Canadian Shipping Federation to work out new timetables.The government's trade commissioners were shopping around the United Kingdom and Europe for an alternative supply but it was felt also that an Ontario plant could turn out models which would be flown to Red China.

WILL GO AHEAD

The government is "quite determined that shipments to Red China will proceed without delay or interruption," Mr.
Diefenbaker said. Shipments had been on schedule so far.He said he wanted to emphasize that there is "no basis whatsoever" for suggestions that the U.S. ban would endanger the execution of the grain deal terms.The Chinese arrangements involve delivery of 217,000,000

CEASE-FIRE DEFIED

U.S. Won't Quit Talks On LaosWASHINGTON (AP)—The United States said today it will not bring about a collapse of the Geneva conference on Laos, but will continue to push at the conference for a cease-fire in the Asian kingdom."The violators of the cease-fire are sitting right there in Geneva," a state department spokesman said. He referred to the Communist side at the conference, which includes Russia and Red China.

rebel forces in Laos. The
